

County tax sale ends after two-day auction

BY DENA BISNETTE

Hancock County has completed one of its shortest delinquent property tax sales in the current decade, but the results have left Tax Collector Assessor Edward Murtagh with some unfinished business.

Murtagh said Wednesday that he was pleased with the two-day tax sale, but still wants to push for new legislation regarding who will get the land which is not sold.

"The tax sale ran very smoothly. It went off without a hitch," Murtagh stated. "but it was one of the shortest we've had in the past eight or ten years."

Tina Stiglet, a member of Murtagh's staff who helped direct the sale, said about 1,960 parcels of land were sold.

The total amount of money paid for that land will be available by the end of the week, but on Wednesday, the results of the sale were still being typed into the office's computers for processing, she said.

Stiglet worked in the tax office in the Courthouse Annex during the sale and said about eight or ten people came in to pay before the sale began Monday morning.

"Once the sale got started, it dropped off. It was nothing like Friday," she said.

The office had done a booming business on Friday with people coming in to pay on the last day before the sale. Between 500 and 600 parcels were redeemed that day, Stiglet added.

Yvonne Ladner, who directed the auction itself at the Hancock County Courthouse, said the sale attracted fewer buyers this year.

"Monday, there were about 60, but a lot of them didn't come back on Tuesday," she said.

"It has been down the past couple of years and seems to be decreasing every year," added Murtagh, who attributes part of the decrease to a lower number of parcels for sale. The lower number, in turn, has resulted from more efficient methods of notifying the public about property taxes and more people paying their taxes before the sale.

Ladner also said bidding was less competitive this year than in the past and that some of the people who attend the sale every year left early.

Under tax sale procedures, the money from the property sold at the sale goes back to the county and is used to cover the unpaid property taxes. Also, advertising the specific parcels for sale creates an expense for the county of about $3 per parcel, Murtagh said.

Currently, the land not sold reverts to the state. As in the county tax sale, it is three years before the state assumes final ownership.

Under current law, land that remains unsold at the tax sale reverts to city ownership rather than the state if the parcel is located within the city limits.

Murtagh would like to see unsold land given to the county. For the past two years, he has sought new legislation to make that possible.

"I'm going to push until we can get it," he said.

STOLEN PROPERTY

A Hancock County woman has been arrested by sheriff's personnel on charges of receiving stolen property.

Raynell Fulton, 29, Rt. 3 Box 374, Picayune, was arrested Thursday after she voluntarily went to the sheriff's office for questioning, according to Hancock County Investigator Nathan Hoda.

"She knew we wanted to talk to her and she came in on her own," Hoda said.

Fulton allegedly had in her possession a 10-speed bicycle and a lawn mower that had been stolen in the Necaise-Caesar Community on August 22, Hoda said.

She has bonded out of Hancock County Justice Facility on $2,000, according to Hoda.

Hoda was assisted in the case by Deputies R.D. Ladner and Bobby Ray Necaise.

SHOPLIFTING ARRESTS

Hancock County Sheriff's Department has arrested two Bay St. Louis residents in connection with two shoplifting incidents in the Bay St. Louis/Waveland area.

Beverly Benoit, 25, 423, Washington St., Bay St. Louis, was arrested Monday and charged with two counts of shoplifting. She allegedly took a CB radio from Radio Shack and an undisclosed amount of jewelry from Bay-Waveland Pawn Shop on Aug. 25, according to Investigator Nathan Hoda.

Also arrested was Jesse Galloway, 21, of Main Street, on one count of grand larceny and one count shoplifting.

There may possibly be another arrest in the case, Hoda said.

Deputy Matt Karl assisted Hoda in the investigation. Both Benoit and Galloway reported to the sheriff's office voluntarily when they learned they were wanted for questioning, Hoda said.

ASSAULT ARREST

A Bay St. Louis man has been arrested for assaulting two police officers.

Mark A. Lacoste, 29, 902 Highway 90, was arrested by Sheriff's Deputies Terry Robinson and Kenny Hurt Thursday and charged with two counts of aggravated assault on a police officer, grand larceny, causing bodily injury and burglary of a dwelling, according to Investigator Delbert Seay.

Lacoste allegedly took $1,800 from the residence of a woman whom he had dated four months earlier after her small son opened the door for him, Seay said.

The money allegedly was taken while the child was taking a shower.

Lacoste allegedly "banged up" the woman when he entered the home a second time by breaking in the door, Seay said.

When Robinson and Hurt went to arrest Lacoste he fled in his automobile and a chase ensued, ending at Lacoste's residence.

He then got out of his car and pointed an automatic pistol at the officers, Seay said.

"When they drew their own weapons he started running. They tackled him," Seay said.

About $1,600 of the stolen money was recovered after Lacoste told officers where it was hidden," according to Seay.

Taylor 5th District bid officially starts in Bay

BY D.C. HARVILL

A standing-room-only crowd packed the court room in Hancock County Courthouse Tuesday to hear State Senator Gene Taylor officially announce his candidacy for the U.S. Fifth District congressional seat left vacant by the death of Rep. Larkin Smith.

In his opening remarks, Taylor acknowledged South Mississippi's loss at the representative's death and extended his sympathy to Smith's family.

Smith died August 13 in an airplane crash in rural Perry County in route from Hattiesburg to Gulfport.

A special election to fill vacant office has been scheduled for October 3. If required, a runoff election will be October 17.

"Because South Mississippi has pressing needs, and at the urging of many, many friends and supporters, both Democratic and Republican, I am today announcing my candidacy for the U.S. House of Representatives," Taylor said.

Taylor of Bay St. Louis, a five-year veteran of the Mississippi Senate, said the agenda for this campaign will be the

Anderson announces candidacy

Tom Anderson, chief of staff for Trent Lott in both the house of representatives and the senate, announced his candidacy Wednesday for Mississippi's Fifth Congressional District.

"Today I am announcing my candidacy to fill the vacancy left by the tragic death of Congressman Larkin Smith," Anderson said.

"For many years, South Mississippi has had excellent representation in Congress, first with Trent Lott and then with Larkin. I am running to try and continue the conservative leadership these two men gave South Mississippi in Congress."

Anderson cited his extensive service to the Fifth District and South Mississippi as one of his major qualifications for the office.

The Gulfport native has been with Trent Lott in Washington for 16 years, first as his chief of staff in the House and recently in the U.S. Senate.

"I have worked with and seen how a congressman can make a difference in helping his district," Anderson said. "I know that being a congressman is more than just showing up for votes; it also means taking care of the people who elected you and helping them when they need your help."

Senator Lott said, "Tom Anderson has had more impact on the Congress than many congressmen. He knows how to get things done. I can count on him and the people of the Fifth District can count on him too."

"Tom will be ready to go to work for Mississippi on day one," said Lott.

The 43-year-old Anderson is a native of Gulfport who attended Gulfport High School and received a bachelor of arts degree from University of Mississippi in 1968.

He was a Mississippi delegate to the 1976 Republican National Convention.

In 1983, Anderson became Ronald Reagan's youngest U.S. ambassador appointee. Anderson was confirmed by the U.S. Senate to serve as ambassador to six Eastern Caribbean countries.

Anderson was also the Reagan administration's point man for drug interdiction in the Eastern Caribbean. He helped coordinate an interdepartmental drug effort which linked the navy, customs service, coast enforcement agency and coast guard as well as various agencies within the Department of Justice.

Drug flier source unknown, problem not known locally

BY D.C. HARVILL

A flier being given to employees of Sverdrup Technologies at Stennis Space Center by the company's safety division warns of drugs being distributed to children in the form of colorful "tatoos".

The The Sea Coast Echo in recent weeks has received several copies of the flier from people concerned about the prospect of small children knowingly or accidentally subjected to drugs by means of the seemingly harmless items.

"The (flier) has been circulating for a long time, but I don't know of any problem like that here or anywhere on the Coast and I hope we never have one," Hancock County Sheriff Ronnie Peterson said.

Peterson said the flier had been brought to his attention about a year ago by local school principals.

According to the flier, "A form of tattoo called the 'Blue Star' is being sold to school children. It is a small sheet of paper containing blue stars the size of a pencil eraser. Each star is soaked with L.S.D.

"Each star can be removed and placed in the mouth. The L.S.D. can also be absorbed through the skin simply by handling the paper."

"There are also brightly colored paper tabs resembling postage stamps that have pictures of Superman, butterflies, clowns, Mickey Mouse and

Voter registration deadline is Friday in Fifth District

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

The deadline for non-registered voters to register for the October 3 special election is 5 p.m. Friday.

The election's date was set by Governor Ray Mabus to fill the unexpired term of the late Congressman Larkin Smith.

Registration is open to residents of Hancock County who are 18 years of age or older, who are United States citizens, have lived in the county for more than 30 days, have never been convicted of any crime listed in section 241, Mississippi Constitution of 1890, shall be qualified electors.

Pamela Metzler, Hancock County Circuit Clerk, reports her office is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the Hancock County Courthouse in Bay St. Louis for voter registrations.

"Registration is only needed by persons who are not already registered in the county," Metzler stated.

HEADQUARTERS

The grand opening of State Senator Gene Taylor's campaign headquarters for his 5th District Congressional Election bid will be 6 to 7 p.m. Friday.

The headquarters are located on Highway 90 next to Scaffidi's Wheel Inn Restaurant in Bay St. Louis.

Veterans representative to answer questions at Bay DAV headquarters

A representative from the national organization of Disabled American Veterans will be in Bay St. Louis September 7 to answer questions about veterans' benefits, according to DAV Chapter 50 service officer Roland Wohlschlegel.

Persons who have questions about benefits they receive or any of the programs concerning veterans are asked to stop by the DAV Chapter 50 headquarters at 303 Union Street, Bay St. Louis. It is not necessary to be a DAV member.

The representative will answer questions from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. Each person are asked to bring his VA claim number.

DAV Chapter 1 will host the representative on September 6 at 2600 3rd Avenue, Gulfport, and DAV Chapter 649 will have the same program September 5 at 649 Howard Avenue, Biloxi.

Anyone who is unable to attend may send their question in writing to the Disabled American Veterans VA Regional Office, 100 West Capitol Street, Jackson, MS 39269, or phone 965-4822.

get it," he said. "It has great possibilities."

He plans to seek the assistance of State Representative J.P. Compretta and State Senator Gene Taylor.

The proposal would be general legislation rather than a local and private bill, meaning that it will cover the entire state.

Murtagh said the counties should be allowed three options—holding another sale at a different time of year, using the land or trading it for other property.

He also has two ideas regarding how the money from the sold property should be used. One option is putting the money into the county general fund. The other is equalizing it according to the millage, giving some to the various county funds, some to the school district and so forth.

The tax collector-assessor also feels that the counties should be left some discretion in which way they use the money.

"I think it should be left as an option because we don't know what the need will be at the time," Murtagh said.

He hopes to be able to get the proposal presented during the next legislative session, which begins in January.

other Disney Characters on them. These stamps are packed in a red cardboard box wrapped in foil. This is a new way of selling ACID by appealing to young children.

The flier warns not to handle the items because the drugs can be absorbed through the skin.

The described method of distributing L.S.D. is possible, the sheriff said. "But we don't see much L.S.D. these days. It used to be a very popular drug in the '70s. Coke (cocaine) is the most common drug on the streets now. Marijuana is always around and we are starting to see Ecstasy," Peterson said.

Ecstasy, an amphetamine taken in a pill form, "may well be the next problem drug on the streets," the sheriff said.

"The drug makes the mouth real dry. Our experience is that the user has to drink a lot of water. Some bar owners have related to me that are getting a lot of customers recently who drink nothing but water," he said.

According to Linda Ellerbush of the Sverdrup Safety Division, her office received the flier from another company at Stennis Space Center.

"The flier was received in the mail. We have not been able to substantiate the source," Ellerbush said.

"We gave it to our employees because we thought it would be good information for parents to have whether the problem was prevalent in the area or not. We really don't know where it came from," she said.

Sverdrup regularly distributes safety and health related information to its employees, Ellerbush said.

ACCIDENT INJURES ONE

One person was injured Wednesday, Aug. 26, in an accident involving a motorcycle and a bicycle.

According to David Sellier of the Bay St. Louis Police Department, Elzy Martin, 20, of Apt. 26, Union St., Bay St. Louis, pulled out in front of the motorcycle at the intersection of St. Francis Street and Old Spanish Trail at about 7:20 p.m. Wednesday.

Martin was treated and released from Hancock Medical Center.

The driver of the motorcycle, Wayne Champagne of 411 Thomas St., Bay St. Louis, was driving toward Main Street at the time of the accident. Witnesses stated that he tried to avoid hitting the bicyclist, Sellier said.

No charges related to the accident were made against Champagne, but he was charged with driving on a suspended license, the officer stated.

Three numbers available for telethon contributors

BY DENA BISNETTE

This year's telephone numbers for the annual Labor Day Weekend Muscular Dystrophy Association Telethon are 467-9005, 467-9006 and 467-9007.

According to Chairman Louis Smolensky, the event will be staged at Charlie Henderson Ford on US-90 and is sponsored by Waveland Civic Association.

The 13-year-old local event has traditionally been staged on the Labor Day Weekend to coincide with the national association's telethon.

This year, it has been moved from Waveland City Hall to Henderson Ford to take advantage of additional telephone lines available there.

The telethon begins at 6 p.m. Sunday and continues through 6 p.m. Labor Day. The pledge center at the Ford dealership covers the Hancock-West Harrison County area.

"As pledge center coordinator, I will need your help. Any assistance that you can give me and my telethon committee will be greatly appreciated," Smolensky said.

"Because of your generosity in the past, the association has been able to continue providing services to those individuals afflicted with muscular dystrophy."

"Please make your pledge or stop by Charlie Henderson Ford, where the fish bowl will be set up for donations."

In addition, donations placed on major credit cards can be accepted this year for the first time.

Smolensky said the proceeds from the local telethon will help serve about 200 Gulf Coast residents who suffer from the disease.

"I am interested in winning this election in South Mississippi, not in Jackson or Washington. The people of South Mississippi will give me their support and will elect me," he said.

When asked if he was saying he did not need the support of the Democratic committee, he said, "I am saying the people of South Mississippi should have the exclusive right to elect their next congressman, not the bureaucrats in Jackson or Washington."

Taylor said he wants the opportunity to help make America a nation that "lives within its means, that embraces fiscal conservatism but will not tolerate economic stagnation."

Taylor stressed the need to make America a nation that "helps those who cannot help themselves" but makes sure "our efforts to help the needy are not abused by the greedy."

same as when he ran against Smith in the 1988 general election.

He claimed 46 percent of the vote in that bid for the congressional office.

"I intend for this election to do more than fill the shoes of our fallen congressman. With your help, this election will signal the beginning of a bi-partisan conservative effort, a crusade that starts in Mississippi and will not cease until America is once again on the course our founding fathers intended," he said.

"If he'd switched parties it would have been a signal that he could be bought. Gene's big selling point is his credibility," said Mississippi Democratic Committee member Carter Bise.

Bise, a liberal Democrat, said he is supporting the conservative Taylor because he (Taylor) has a reputation for integrity and honesty.

"I'm just glad to have a candidate I can be proud to support," Bise said.

Taylor was joined at the conference by his wife Margaret, daughters Sarah and Emily, 10 and seven, respectively, and his 15-month-old son, Gary.

Several times during his speech, Taylor was upstaged by Gary, who had the crowd erupting into loud laughter when he attempted to repeat what his father was saying and clapped

We've Been Making Loans For 99 Years

Since 1890, we've been making loans to homeowners so we've really got the hang of it.

And it follows that we'd know the ins and outs of car financing. That's why thrifty Hancock and Harrison County car buyers come to us for their automobile financing.

Maybe that's why it is so difficult to find a parking place.

So when you can't resist that new car smell, or those sleek new lines, come on in to any Peoples Federal location. We'll help you find the most economical way to finance that special car--because we're frugal too.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

High school football officially gets underway Friday night with all local teams seeing action.

The Tigers of Bay High will travel to Pearl River, La. Friday night to open the 1989 season.

Bay High will be trying to improve their record of 2-7 last season.

The high-flying Hawks of Hancock North Central will play host to d'Iberville's Warriors.

The Hawks had one of their best records in recent years last season and will be trying to continue.

D'Iberville has always been tough when playing Hancock and this should be the game of the week for the Coast.

The Rock-A-Chaws of St. Stanislaus will host the Pirates of Pass Christian Friday night.

The Pirates could be trouble for the Rocks who had a good outing against Ocean Springs last Friday in a warm-up contest, if they take Pass too lightly.

The Coast Episcopal Raiders will journey Saturday night to Eutaw, Ala. to vie with the Warrior Braves.

Coast will be trying to get into the win column after falling short 14-18 to the Chamberlain Hunt Wildcats.

I hope there will be some good fan support for all local high school teams this season.

The players really appreciate when the stands are full of supporters. It seems to make them just give that little extra.

I hope to see you in the stands supporting the team of your choice.

A Poppy fundraiser will be held Saturday by the Clement R. Bontemps American Legion Auxiliary Unit No. 139.

Auxiliary members will be stationed around town seeking donations.

Proceeds raised by the Poppy drive will be used for veterans rehab and families of vets who need help.

I noted the State Highway Department's mowers were busy on Highway 607 Tuesday.

The median and shoulders of the highway surely looked good after being mowed.

I also noticed several highway workers having to go ahead of the mowers picking up litter.

Isn't it a shame that we as taxpayers have to pay to collect the debris others just throw out their windows alongside our highways and roadways.

Litter is a serious problem in Hancock County, and I can hope, one day it can be eliminated. I can hope, can't I?

Many of our residents will be on the highways this weekend traveling to visit friends and relatives.

The point is, each and every one will have a very safe driving experience, and remember, if you drink, please do not drive.

Drinking and driving causes so many deaths each year on our highways.

Many of our area lakes, rivers and bayous will be filled with boaters and drinking while operating a boat is another problem.

Poor boating and operating boats are another cause of accidents and lives lost each year.

It is so easy to lose one's life on the water when an accident occurs.

All boaters are also urged to have the proper safety equipment such as flotation devices and life jackets and whatever the U.S. Coast Guard requires.

Have a very safe and happy Labor Day weekend.

SEEING DOUBLE?—No, this is only the old and the new in Bay St. Louis. A city crew is replacing all traffic signs throughout the area. The short stop sign is an old variety and the tall one is the new one located at the intersection of North Second and Ulman Avenue. The new height on the signs was designed to reduce vandalism. The taller signs have been funded by a grant from the Governor's office. This intersection has been the site of numerous accidents and motorists are urged to drive carefully as school is back in session. (Echo staff photo by Ellis Cuevas)

WASHINGTON REPORT

By Senator Thad Cochran

Cochran urges small businesses to seek more government business

Senator Thad Cochran urges small business firms to seek out the "world's biggest customer for goods and services—the federal government."

Speaking at a statewide small business opportunities seminar in the Capital City, Cochran noted that last year the federal government purchased over $191 billion in goods and services.

With 51,000 small business enterprises in Mississippi, Cochran said the state's economy can benefit from a more aggressive approach to seeking federal contracts.

The senator also told the crowd of about 400 that he believes the economic outlook for Mississippi is brighter for the future, citing such high-tech operations as the NASA test facilities and others offering opportunities for job improvements and economic expansion.

The seminar was co-sponsored by the U.S. Small Business Administration, Cochran, and his colleague, Senator Trent Lott. Cochran was the featured speaker at the opening session of the day-long symposium. Lott was scheduled to speak at the noon luncheon.

Cochran also told the group that the government should carefully weigh the impact of laws and regulations on small business, and said he is confident the Bush administration will take a prudent approach in assessing the economic impact of such laws and regulations on the business sector.

Joining Cochran at the small business procurement seminar was Fourth District Congressman Mike Parker of Brookhaven, Jackson Mayor Kane Ditto, various SBA officials, including state SBA Director Jack Spradling and others.

Congressman Parker told the group that as a small businessman himself, he discovered the three most important factors were: "cash flow, cash flow...and cash flow," and urged the group to seek more government contracts.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Librarian Weston commended

Dear Editor:

I would like to pin a verbal orchid on Mary Leigh Weston, a staff member of the City-County Public Library here in Bay St. Louis. Mary Leigh's job is primarily to assist library patrons to locate books, materials and information on a multitude of subjects. This she does speedily, cheerfully and enthusiastically.

To give an example: For days certain little phrases kept recurring to my mind such as, "Earth gets its price for what Earth gives us. The beggar is taxed for a corner to die in...we bargain for the graves we lie in" and "Tis heaven alone that is given away...And God alone may be had for the asking."

So, I take my problem to Mary Leigh and have very little helpful information for her search. No, none of these quotations are a first line. No, I don't know who the author was. No, I don't know about when it was written. I left the puzzle to Mary Leigh.

Less than two hours later she phoned to say the quotations came from The Vision of Sir Launfal written by James Russell Lowell.

She also said she could duplicate the poem on the library's machine for ten cents per page! Thus for a sum of 60 cents my curiosity is satisfied. No doubt Mary Leigh's assistance is most helpful to students. Many thanks, Mary Leigh!

Workshops would benefit more if held at night

To the Editor:

I have been noticing more and more the availability of free workshops held here in the Bay. Unfortunately, the working class is unable to attend as meetings are held during the day.

It is disappointing to read about these workshops and not be able to attend. There are two of these workshops being held this week—one offered by the Hancock County Extension Service and the other offered by a home furnishing specialist—which is to be held at Mississippi Power. Both would be interesting and educational.

We need such workshops to be available to all, not just a select few.

Let's get something going so all can take part, learn and become better persons.

Yours truly,
Darlene Castren

Animal shelter fate in hands of supervisors

Dear Editor:

It is now over a year since the Hancock County Humane Society has been permitted to oversee the rights of animals in the now "Waveland Shelter."

The unloved, unwanted animals' cry falls and dies on the concrete wall; its voice to the world outside the shelter has been silenced. This shelter, however, still has and uses the cages, gates, freezer, storage shed, heater, etc., that has been donated by the Hancock County Humane Society along with much money over the past six years.

Waveland has usurped our donations, but denies our participation.

Throughout this year, the Humane Society has been rallying forces to erect a shelter and has been receiving encouragement in all forms. The holdup is land.

At first, we thought that there must be someone who would gladly give us two acres in the area in which we must build: an area that would be accessible to the public and to the veterinarians.

That benevolent someone has not yet appeared. We are now looking to buy two acres and are having a hard time finding them; either the land has a homestead covenant on it, or the owner is afraid to "chop up" the ground for one reason or another.

I know that eventually we will get the land, but every day that passes we are in despair. It is another day of horror for the innocent victims, the animals.

The best of all places would be to build our shelter in the Fairgrounds area or behind the Fairgrounds by the Fire House.

We have asked the County Supervisors for a piece of land there and they have refused us. This shelter will benefit all of Hancock County, and we believe that the supervisors can and should find the two acres in that area that belongs to the county and make them immediately available to us. We are the county.

There is such a large quantity of land, that there again, two acres would not be missed. Why won't the supervisors do what is necessary to help us? It will save the taxpayers money because it can be built with the Hancock County Humane Society funds and material donations which have been given to us as a non-profit agency by citizens who want and understand the need for our shelter.

The dogs and cats that are incarcerated at the Waveland Shelter are without Humane Society care or witness, and by ordering the county animals be taken there the supervisors are condoning their fate.

They have complimented our vigor, told us that we could have the county animals and promised their support. Promises, promises.

The buck stops with Ronnie Cuevas, Michael Ladner, Lisa Coward, Robert Peterson and Wilmer Seymour We, the people of Hancock County, ask them with all alacrity, give us some land!

Thyla P. Rogers
Humane Society President

Free legal advice offered Wednesday

On Wednesday, Sept. 6 from 6 to 7 p.m., a staff of volunteer attorneys will be answering legal questions from the general public at 1-374-4160. This is no longer a toll-free number. All calls will be charged to the telephone from which the call is made.

This service is sponsored by the Harrison County Young Lawyers, the South Mississippi Planning and Development District's Area Agency on Aging, and South Mississippi Legal Services Corporation.

The "First Wednesday Legal Line" offers the public an opportunity to call for legal information and referral services for a specific problem.

This service is especially intended for elderly, handicapped and low-income individuals who may not have access to an attorney or who may not know whether the problem requires the assistance of one.

However, everyone with a question about the law is encouraged to call.

Popular silver polish started with a cow

Suddenly it is the fall season of 1989. We know the change of seasons is upon us, for pine needles are falling and gusty rain storms bring down rotten branches from our trees.

The airplane bugs (they fly united) have to be brushed from our windshields, headlights, etc. These insects are not presently listed as "endangered species" but as Abraham Lincoln once said about common people, "The Lord must have loved them, he made so many of them."

Now we can start putting paper plates and plastic glasses in storage and get ready for a more formal lifestyle which we welcome. Our silver, brass, pewter should be brought out, cleaned and polished getting ready for Thanksgiving, Christmas and the New Year.

To conserve our energy and bring out the beauty of our silver and other metals we consulted John B. Wright, vice president of the J. A. Wright & Co. of Keene, N.H. Wright specializes in fine metal care products, and the company is well over 100 years old.

Our requirements are products that are safe for our trea-tures, reasonable in price, easily applied and long lasting. The history of Wright products begins with a cow! It has been suggested that a statue of a cow be erected in Keene to remind the public that a bogged down old bovine led to the manufacture of a fine metal polish. Why not? They have a boll weevil in Alabama, and Salt Lake City has its sea gull.

Anyway—about this cow? It seems that she got herself bogged down and was "udderly" unable to move. Bogged down. The year was 1873 and John Artemas Wright helped to free the unfortunate animal. He noticed that the mud that covered her changed color when dried and he was curious.

Gathering up a bit of the mud he had it analyzed and learned it contained microscopic shells of marine plants deposited over thousands of years ago and a good source for metal polish.

Today Wright's products include a full line, including copper, silver and brass cream as well as jewelry care and anti-tarnish polish. So good luck and happy holidays and personally, I would like to kiss the cow!

Trinity nursery hosts open house

Trinity Nursery School in Pass Christian will hold open house Friday, Sept. 1 from 10 a.m. to noon. This is a chance for students and parents (and prospective students and parents) to meet the teachers, Martha Burdette and Phyllis Brack, and see some of the materials and activities that will be used during the 1989-90 school year. Openings are still available for both three-year-olds, who meet on Tuesday and Thursday mornings, and four-year-olds who meet on Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings. For more information, call Burdette at 452-7180 or Brack at 467-0458.

Clermont Methodist attic sale features myriad of bargains

Featuring a broad range of items, the third annual Attic Sale of Clermont Harbor United Methodist Church will be held Friday and Saturday. Hours will be 9 a.m. until 5 p.m.

On sale in air-conditioned Fellowship Hall will be clothing, antiques, toys, books, housewares, electric saws, tools, motors and a miscellany of other items.

Bay north of bridge reopened for shrimping

The Bay of St. Louis, Back Bay of Biloxi and West Pascagoula River will be opened to live-bait shrimping for a special six-day period beginning Wednesday, according to action Tuesday by the Mississippi Commission on Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks.

The action, which amends criterion for live-bait shrimping adopted by the commission last month, was taken because lack of rainfall drastically reduced the number of shrimp that normally appear in the half-mile limit.

Joe Gill, deputy director of the department's coastal operations, said recent month-long sampling by Bureau of Marine Resources staff show that the number of shrimp in the bays was greater than the number in the sample areas outside the bays.

Samples in the bays showed shrimp to be larger than 120 to the pound and a low number of juvenile shrimp, Gill said.

Gill said the bays usually are not opened to live-bait shrimping, but it was recommended because of extraordinary conditions that have affected sampling and to accommodate live-bait dealers who will supply sport fishermen during the Labor Day holiday.

The bays will open 30 minutes before sunrise Wednesday and close at sunset Sept. 5.

The bay areas which will be open during this period include all of the Bay of St. Louis north of the railroad bridge, Biloxi Back Bay from the railroad bridge to the power lines and the West Pascagoula River from the railroad bridge to the power lines.

The commission also decided Tuesday at its meeting at J. P. Coleman State Park that the sample size criterion it adopted last month would go back into effect at sunset Sept. 5 and that the staff and live-bait dealers will re-evaluate the criterion for future recommendation to the commission.

Bureau staff and live bait dealers recently completed a series of workshops to establish criteria governing the live-bait industry.

The bureau is planning workshops in September to develop criteria for the gill-netting and purse-seining industries.

'Voice of Democracy' contest offers $18,000 scholarship first prize

"Why I Am Proud Of America" is the theme of the 43rd annual 'Voice of Democracy' scriptwriting program sponsored by Cecil R. Ruddock Post 5931, Pass Christian.

This program is sponsored nationally by the Veterans Of Foreign Wars of the United States and Ladies Auxiliary.

The winner from the state of Mississippi will receive a five-day all expense paid trip to Washington D.C. next March, together with the other 50 state winners; the District of Columbia, the Pacific areas and European winners.

Participating students are encouraged to tape their script using professional equipment available at cooperating radio stations. The recorded script must be at least three minutes and no longer than 5 minutes in length. It can be recorded on cassette tape or if desired on reel magnetic at a speed of 7 1/2 inches per second. Tapes and script will be judged for content, originality and delivery.

First prize nationally will be a $18,000 scholarship with nine additional prizes for a total of $50,000. Last year 130,000 students from private, public and parochial schools participated nationwide. Pass Christian contributed 15 of that total.

Students in 10th, 11th and 12th grades wishing to participate many contact Kenneth Bloom, 337 Poindexter, Drive, Pass Christian, phone 452-7494, or Lisette Callahan, 25312 LeChene Drive, Pass Christian, phone 255-2779, or school principals.

Participation in 'Voice of Democracy' gives students experience in writing and speaking also a chance to reflect on our nation and its meaning to them.

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire
Caire

With the long Labor Day Weekend—Swan Song to Summer—at hand, many of us are pondering just what we want to serve for the traditional Labor Day barbecue feast, aren't we?

There's something about cooking outdoors and sniffing those wonderful aromas that makes everything taste better, from hamburgers to thick, juicy steaks, don't you agree?

So, I'm sure that the hibachis and smokers and grills and barbecue pits, and even those small disposable grills will be going like mad over the weekend all along the Coast.

It's said, that despite these inflationary times, America's favorite food for cooking over the coals is steak, with chicken a close second. Well, if you want to stick to steak, you needn't mortgage the old homestead for such delectables as sirloin or porterhouse—you can dine quite well on that good ole chuck, be it blade or round or whatever, and it's well suited to outdoor cooking as well.

One of the tastiest "economy with a bit of elegance" meats for al fresco dining is a thick (say, an inch and a half or two inches thick) cut of beef chuck blade roast or steak, the first cut if possible. This has some of the "rib eye" so that you get the blade steak and a bit of other steak to boot—that's a trick the old family cook taught me years ago!

Sometimes I cut that tender part away and save it for another meal, at other times I let it all go on the grill. At any rate, try to get that first blade. A cut round bone chuck is good, also, and I have even used beef brisket cuts with good results.

But, of course, you can't just plop that chuck steak on the grill; you'd better marinate it overnight, or at least for a few hours or more, or at the very least let it sit in olive oil and lemon juice for a couple of hours.

Here's one of my favorite marinades, for tenderizing the tougher cuts of meat, quantity depending, of course, upon the amount of meat:

MARINADE
1 cup red wine

3 or 4 Tblsp. red wine vinegar (or other vinegar)

Half a cup to a cup of olive oil
1 well-crushed clove of garlic
Several slices, or more, of onion

Several dashes of hot pepper sauce

Puddle it all together, and marinate the steak in it overnight, or for several hours at least. Drain off the marinade, and grill the meat to your taste. You may add barbecue sauce if you wish.

Why not serve with potatoes and whole onions roasted on the grill or in the ashes of a fire, or serve rice pilaf, along with a green salad, and enjoy! And, some ears of corn!

Egg salad recipe can be prepared in microwave

Hard-cooked eggs in the microwave? You've got to be kidding!

Believe it or not, it's possible—using a simple cooking technique. It's just right for keeping the kitchen cool and for quickly preparing enough chopped hard-cooked eggs for your favorite salad, sandwich filling, casserole or to use as a garnish.

You'll need to break and separate the eggs, placing whites in one bowl and yolks in another. (Don't worry if a small amount of egg gets in the wrong bowl.)

Because egg yolks contain fat and cook faster, they're cooked separately. Both use a reduced power setting to avoid overcooking. Start with the times listed below and adjust for your own microwave oven and varying numbers of eggs. Once chopped and mixed, you'd never know that the eggs weren't stove-top cooked.

Try out the method by preparing Quick 'n' Cool Egg salad. It's a simple summertime combination of eggs, peas, green onions and almonds in a lightly seasoned dressing. Calorie-counters, take note: a serving contains fewer than 150 calories, yet provides almost 1/4 of your daily of your daily protein needs.

QUICK 'N' COOL EGG SALAD

6 side- or 3 main-dish servings

1/3 cup reduced-calorie sour cream or sour half and half
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon curry powder
6 hard-cooked eggs*, chopped
1 cup frozen peas, thawed
1/4 cup chopped green onions with tops
1/4 cup sliced almonds
Lettuce leaves, optional
Tomato slices, optional

In medium bowl, stir together sour cream, salt and curry powder. Toss lightly with remaining ingredients until evenly coated with dressing. Cover and chill to blend flavors. Serve on lettuce leaves and garnish with tomato slices, if desired.

*To hard-cook eggs in microwave, break and separate eggs, separately placing egg yolks and egg whites into each of 2 lightly greased liquid measures or small bowls.

Stir yolks with fork. Cover each container with plastic wrap. Cook separately on 50 percent power about 2 to 3 minutes for yolks, about 5 to 6 minutes for whites, stirring once or twice.

Remove when slightly underdone. Let stand, covered, 2 minutes. Cool long enough to handle comfortably, then chop or chill until ready to chop.

THE SEA COAST ECHO—THURSDAY, AUGUST 31, 1989-1B

SECTION B

Time Out

By Dena Bisnette

Everybody's gearing up for the beginning of football season tomorrow night.

Football has a large following here in Hancock County and the people I see at the games usually seem to enjoy them whether or not their team wins.

It's hard to find enjoyment in the other competition that goes along with football—the quest for a parking space and getting out of it once the game is over.

If you park close to the field, you're boxed in. If you arrive too late to get one of those spaces, you either park on grass in the outfield somewhere or you have to get creative.

Stadiums are laid out differently but the parking crunch where popular teams clash is consistent no matter how much room there is.

The Bay's away so the parking lot scramble will be fought before two games—Pass at Stanislaus and d'Iberville at Hancock. The streets around the St. Stanislaus field are narrow, but I'm still predicting heavier competition at Hancock because d'Iberville's the opener.

Watch for the pedestrians and be careful not to dent the fenders, but have a good time Friday.

Another Hunter Safety Course begins Sept. 5 at the Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library. The course, which continues on Sept. 7, 8, and 9, meets from 6 p.m. until 9 p.m. each night.

Pre-registration is required. To register or for more information, call Antoine Boyd at 467-5108 after 5 p.m.

The third annual Hancock County Bassmasters Open Bass Tournament will be held Oct. 8 on the Pearl River and is now accepting entries.

Entry fee is $50 per team but $2,000 in prize money will be awarded. To enter or for more information, call Ronnie Farrell at 467-4036 or Sid LeBlanc at 467-3234.

We have another one of those "Hometown Athlete Moves On" items this week. Paul Brown, a Bay St. Louis native who has been coaching in Slidell, has been named an assistant basketball coach at Birmingham-Southern College. We wish him success in his new job.

Chris Lacoste, a former Hancock North Central player, is listed as one of the potential starters for the Pearl River Community College opener against Itawamba at Tupelo. Lacoste, a six-foot-four, 245-pound sophomore, is a defensive tackle.

Also tapped as a starter is former Bay St. Louis player Walter Scoble, a six-foot-one, 190 pound placekicker who is a sophomore this year.

Season tickets are available, by the way, from Wildcat Club members for $60. They provide admission and reserved seats at the five home games, so Itawamba isn't included. The part I like is that reserved parking goes along with the reserved seats.

The South Mississippi Soccer Club Under-14 select try-outs will be tonight at 6:30 p.m. at Milner Stadium in Gulfport. Additional try-outs are Sept. 9 and 10.

Coast players born in either 1976 or 1977 are eligible. The $40 registration fee is refundable to players not selected for the team.

More information is available from Coach Martin Rollins at 832-3610.

This area has had several players on select teams in the past and some of those teams made it into post-season play-offs last year. The prospect of an encore performance makes the coming season even more exciting than usual for local soccer enthusiasts.

Openings were still available by The Sea Coast Echo's Wednesday press deadline in the Pass Christian Isles Mid-Summer Scramble Golf Tournament.

Entry fee for the event, which will be played Saturday and Sunday, is $60. For more information or to register, contact pro Mike Burke at 452-3830.

I usually don't add events outside the Hancock-West Harrison County area to this column, but I know runners will travel far and wide to sweat out a 5K. This time, they only have to go as far as Pascagoula for the fourth annual Flagship Festival Run.

The event begins at 8 a.m. Saturday at Riverfront Park in Pascagoula. It includes the usual 5K run and one-mile health run and walk.

Entry fee is $10 on race day and registration begins at 7 a.m. and closes 15 minutes before the race. Children who want to participate in the one-mile pay $5 each. Everybody who enters gets a T-shirt and trophies and medallions will be awarded to winners.

For information, contact John Pouncey, 497-1898; Mike McElhaney at 762-2276; or Lindo Sullivan at 832-6071.

BWYC junior sailors return from Europe

BY DENA BISNETTE

Winning wasn't everything when two junior members of the Bay-Watch and Yacht Club went to Nynashamn, Sweden, to compete in the seventh European Optimist Sailing Championship earlier this month.

Mallory Mestayer, the older of the two girls, had better luck in the competition, but the younger one, Caroline Weems, said she learned a great deal about sailing on the trip.

Mestayer, who sails in the Red Fleet (13-15 division) was 30th overall of about 65 girls representing 26 countries.

"It was real, real intense. It was very hard competition," Mestayer said.

"It was really the first time I'd been in a real big regatta like that, and I started out slow," she added. "I did have two real good races. I was fifth in one and took a second in the last race."

The European championships was her second international race, because she has competed before in Peru. It was the first in which she had competed against girls only.

"The boys actually started out about 10 minutes after we did. The girls had red streamers on their sails so the judges could tell them from the boys," she said.

There were about 125 boys, but Mestayer said the boys and girls did not actually mix very much except when some of the girls fell behind.

Her toughest competition came from the Danish and the Italians. Denmark won both the boys' and girls' overall competition, while three girls' entries from Italy finished second, third and fifth overall.

Mestayer and Weems, along with the rest of the U.S. sailors flying out of the New Orleans airport, lost one of the three practice days due to a delayed flight. They did get in two days of practice and a practice race before the actual three-day competition began.

Mestayer was pleased with the weather, for the most part. She said the first practice day in which she participated had a hard wind but the other days were better. One thing she will remember is having to wear wet suits under her sweats because the water was extremely cold.

"I didn't really like the practices," Weems said. "It was squalling and it was my first time to sail in that much wind. For the practice race, it was who believes that, at age 11, she was probably the youngest sailor there.

Both girls were impressed

Caroline Weems

about 25 knots with five-foot waves."

Weems, who sails with the Blue Fleet (11 and 12-year-olds), said she did not feel she had done very well in the races, particularly the last one because she crossed the line too early, but she did pick up a number of new skills.

"The competition was hard. Most of the sailors from other countries were from their world teams. Our world team wasn't picked yet and didn't get to go."

"We sailed at the same time the 15-year-olds did. I learned how to handle wind shifts and how to sail better in heavy air, and the coach taught me a lot of little things," added Weems, with Sweden.

"It was really nice. It's pretty and it's so much different from here, so clean," Weems said.

Mestayer, who visited the country in part of a youth exchange program last year, had a slight advantage because one of the mothers traveling with her group spoke the language.

"We rented a car and drove from Stockholm to Nynashamn," she said. "The people are real friendly."

The one thing both disliked was the food.

"It was awful," said Mestayer. "We found a pizza place and a Chinese place, and the pizza

Comeback attempt fails, Raiders lose opener 18-14

Special to the Echo

A strong second-half comeback by the Coast Episcopal High School Raiders fell short Saturday night as the Chamberlain Hunt Wildcats held on to defeat the Raiders, 18-14.

The Wildcats jumped out to an 18-0 lead in the first half only to see the Raiders fight back behind the passing arm of Jamie North and the hard running of Billy Guice and Scott Covode.

Midway through the third period, the Raiders drove deep into Wildcat territory only to be stalled when a North pass intended for Jack Coggins was picked off.

The Raider defense picked up its intensity and forced the Wildcats to punt the ball.

The Raiders took possession of the football at their own 15-yard line and began pounding the ball on the ground. On third and seven from their own 42-yard line, North dropped back to throw and connected with Tyrone Jones on the 58-yard line scoring a strike. The try for the two-point conversion was good when Guice connected with Jones on a half-back pass, cutting the Wildcat lead to 18-8 with 5:44 left in the contest.

On the Wildcats' next possession, a strong defensive effort by the Raiders resulted again in a Wildcat punt.

With the ball on their own 10-yard line with 55 seconds remaining in the game North again dropped back to throw and connected with Coggins on the curling route. Coggins then pitched the football back to Guice who raced down the left sideline for the score.

The try for the two points failed and the Raiders trailed 18-14 with 27 left on the clock.

On the ensuing on-sides kick, the ball bounced through the hands of a few Wildcat players before they were able to cover the football and run out the clock.

"I told the kids at halftime that they could fold the tent and our whole season would be shot or we could bounce back and show that we have a good football team," said Raider head coach Jack Hutchison.

"They accepted the challenge and fought back real hard. They

Children's Rodeo hosted by Jaycees

BY JANET MCQUEEN

The Bay-Waveland Jaycees will host their second annual Children's Fishing Rodeo Saturday, Sept. 2 at the Garfield Ladner Pier in Waveland.

The event drew more than 300 participants last year, according to co-chairman Ricky Geoffrey.

Trophies will be awarded to first, second and third place winners in freshwater categories of bass and perch and salt-water categories of speckled trout, flounder, ground mullet, croaker, redfish and white trout.

Kelly Cannon, co-chairman, asked that participants be reminded not to enter catfish or stingrays, as both pose hazards to small children.

A 'Crab Division' will be offered for children under age six. Grand prizes will be awarded for largest fish and King and Queen Fisherman (catching the most pounds of fish).

Children up to age 13 may register, with free admission to the pier available that day. Advance registration forms are available at Jack Perniciaro Marine, US-90, Bay St. Louis, and Kelly Cannon State Farm, US-90, Waveland. Registration on Saturday is from 6 a.m. until 1 p.m., with the scales closing at 5 p.m.

Gus Aime Sr. of Bay St. Louis will serve as weighmaster. Hot dogs and hamburgers will be available throughout the day. For more information, call 467-2323 or 467-3237.

Lee to begin first year as Bay High head coach

BY DENA BISNETTE
New Bay High Head Football Coach Dodd Lee will have to cope with a rebuilding year as his first season.

Lee, who came to Bay High as an assistant coach last year from Picayune, also has to face a season with an all-new coaching staff.

Coach Dodd Lee

He has confidence about the second factor. His new assistants include Donnie Bond, an uncertified assistant who played on Picayune High's 1986 State Championship team and works primarily with defensive backs and linebackers. Lee, who was an assistant at Picayune for eight years, was one of Bond's coaches.

Also assisting Lee will be Walt Esslinger, who primarily works with the offensive line. He is a graduate of USM who played football at Pearl River Central in Carriere.

Lee is a former wide receiver who played at Pearl River Community College and Southeastern Louisiana before attending University of Southern Mississippi. He served as offensive coordinator last year under Head Coach Bob Lumpkin after working with defense for most of his eight years at Picayune.

One of the factors setting the odds against a high win-loss record for the Tigers this year is that Lee is the third head coach Bay High has had in three years. Lumpkin had moved up from assistant coach after the retirement of Cleveland Williams, who is now athletic director.

"This doesn't give our program much stability," Lee said, "So this year we're hoping to stabilize it."

"We're looking for consistency in the kids' attitudes and efforts and we're going to try to make the best of it."

"I don't want to put any limits on how well we can play, because if you place limits on a player, he'll perform up to them but not above them. If we get a few breaks in the early part of the year, we could have a successful season."

Lee explained that he doesn't think a good win-loss record is what determines a successful season. Instead, he bases his opinion on how the players have developed during the year and how much improvement they have shown as a team.

"If we improve early in the season, we'll do okay," he said after a scrimmage last week with Poplarville.

"If we start off good, I expect us to go on being good, but if we start off bad, we're not going to make a big deal of it. We're just going to try to get better."

Lee has inherited a tough schedule because all five of the season's first games are district and conference contests. In addition, 3-A Bay High will have to play three 4-A schools and a 5-A team before the season ends.

Lee, however, explained that he simply accepts the schedule as a given factor and again said, "We're just going to make the best of it."

While the Tigers lack an established football program, the team does have several returning starters who bear watching this season.

Included are quarterback Charlie Mitchell, guards Heath Hoppood and Brian Favre, tackle Billy Cuevas, wide receivers Willie Moody and Thomas Brink and defensive linebacker David LeGros.

With about 25 players on this season's team, some of the experienced Tigers will see action on both sides, including Favre at outside linebacker, Hoppood at defensive end and Moody and Brink in the defensive backfield.

Among the newcomers Lee said are showing promise are fullbacks Greg Ratcliff and Scott Rogers. Rogers is a senior but has never gone out for football before, the coach added.

Scott LaFontaine is also showing improvement at center.

Also on this year's roster are wingback Marcus Martin; defensive ends Adam Durensburg, Doug Roberts and Ronald Thompson, defensive linemen Reggie Hayes, Mac Murphree and Chris Barlo; defensive back Shane Nixon; offensive linebacker Blane Feurenstein; and running backs Kevin Dorsey and Emmanuel Antoine.

Other players expected to see action as linebackers include Jessie Torres, Brian Richard and Trey Reed.

Paul Jordan has been tapped as tight end, Kevin Edwards as kicker and David LeGros as offensive tackle.

Lee has a total of about two years coaching offense with seven years at defense. He has known he would become a coach ever since he was a junior in high school.

"I've been around it all my life," he said.

By becoming a coach, he is following in the footsteps of his father, Ezell Lee.

The elder Lee is now a member of the state legislature, but coached at Hancock North Central, Picayune and McLain during his 20-year career.

The new Bay High coach is also the son of Garlan Lee of Picayune. He is married to Dianne Lee and they have two daughters, 11-year-old Tabitha and six-year-old Devin, and a 20-month-old son, Tyler.

USM-FSU game to be aired on WTBS

The Sept. 2 University of Southern Mississippi-Florida State game in Jacksonville, Fla., will be broadcast nationally over WTBS, and the start time has been changed to 11:30 (Central) to accommodate the move to television.

Golden Eagle athletic director Bill McLellan has confirmed what had been open speculation for several days, saying, "We have completed final arrangements with WTBS relative to the Sept. 2 game, and hope that the national exposure offered by WTBS will provide a major boost for our players and overall program here at USM."

"We appreciate the confidence shown in our program by the people at WTBS and look forward to working with them on this occasion and in the future."

McLellan also announced that the game will be blacked out in the Greater Jacksonville (Fla.) area to enhance ticket sales in that area.

The game will mark USM's first regular season television exposure since the 1982 Mississippi State game in Jackson (won by USM 20-14). The Eagles are 6-2 over-all in televised games. This will mark the first ever USM appearance on WTBS.

USM will receive at least $200,000 for the television appearance. Fifty percent of that will go to Florida State.

proved to themselves that we can win some football games."

North was finished in the game completing the pass for 190 yards and four touchdowns. North has now completed 24 of 50 attempts for 400 yards in the Raiders' first two games.

A great deal of North's success through the air has been due to the hard work of the offensive line. Scott Hourin, Hutson Lambert, Less Albritton, Jamie White, Damien Lawver and Rusty Shultz have all done a good job on the line.

Defensive standouts for the Raiders were Lambert, Covode, Hourin, Nathan Guice, Gib Werby and Dave Hagan.

This Saturday, the Raiders travel to Eutaw, Ala. to take on the 2-0 Warrior Braves.

"The Warriors have gotten off to a good start this year. We'll definitely have to be ready when we get there, and if we can cut down on our turnovers we'll have a shot at winning," said Hutchison.

Kickoff is set for 7:30 p.m.

FAVRE 4 HEISMAN—Posters, bumper stickers and photographs promoting University of Southern Mississippi quarterback Brett Favre as candidate for the Heisman Trophy are becoming a familiar sight in Hattiesburg as the 19-year-old Hancock North Central standout enters his junior season with the Golden Eagles. Favre, considered a longshot for the trophy because he does not play for a major university, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Favre of Fenton and a former Hancock North Central standout. Last season, he threw for 2,271 yards and six touchdowns, guiding the Eagles to a 10-2 record.

HNC to face d'Iberville in tough season opener

BY DENA BISNETTE

Hancock North Central Head Coach Irvin Favre is hoping for a good season, but right now, he is more concerned with Friday night's game against d'Iberville.

Coaches often mention "mental attitude" as an important factor going into a game, but Favre said the players' state of mind is likely to be more important than ever when the Hawks clash with the Warriors this weekend.

"We're hoping for a good season and we're working hard for it. We still had a lot of mistakes in our pre-season game last week and we're not in as good shape as we thought we were, but we're working on that," Favre said.

Other than a problem with heat cutting into practice time and some adjustments he still has to make on defense, Favre said he is looking at a team that is basically ready for a tough season.

His concern lies mostly with a tough opener against a team that almost always defeats Favre's Hawks.

"We're facing an extremely tough opener. We have never really beaten them. We never really come close," the coach said.

"Some teams just seem to have a spell on you, and d'Iberville is one of those for us. We just have to break through that spell."

"I know we have the best football team going in Friday and if we don't win, we're going to give it a real good show."

"We've got more speed than they have."

Favre commented that people who want to see that show, which begins at 7:30 p.m. at Hancock North Central, need to arrive early.

"There should be a big crowd. Last year when we played them at d'Iberville, the game just packed the house on both sides," he said, adding that even an away game against the Warriors draws a big crowd.

"It's just going to be a matter of psychology Friday night. The coaches and the players have to believe they can win this football game."

The d'Iberville game's importance is not limited to getting the season off to a victorious start. It is also a district and conference game, and Hancock and d'Iberville nearly always end up clashing over the district title.

Favre talked about last year's game, explaining that last year's freshman sensation, running back Terrence Goff, had trouble with the d'Iberville jinx.

"Goff" carried 14 times last year and gained just nine yards. Usually, for 14 carries, he'd get fullback Tyrus Jackson.

"Basically speaking, that gives you two out of four in the backfield. Coming back on the line, we have Don Hunter at left guard, Rene Chaisson at right tackle and Shawn Benefield at left tackle," the coach said.

Looking at it from both offensive and defensive angles, that gives the Hawks about five starters both ways.

In addition, Hancock North Central has one of the oldest coaching staffs on the Gulf Coast. Favre, a 19-year veteran, has worked with assistants Joe Shaw and Rocky Gaudin for about a decade, and Tim Favre was added about eight years ago. The only newcomer is Andy Perniciaro, who is beginning his second year of coaching and joined Favre's staff last year around 100 yards," Favre explained.

Goff is one of the returning starters for Hancock, which has depth this year with about 45 players. Also returning are quarterback Casey David and was so greasy that we ate Chinese almost every day."

Once they got back to Stockholm, all of the U.S. sailors wanted one thing—to go to the McDonald's. The food is the same, Weems said, but the restaurant is more formal.

"They dress nicer to go there," she explained.

Both girls want to go to more international competition. Next year's European championships are in Germany and Weems, whose immediate sailing plans include a clinic

Bay-Waveland Yacht Club and an optimist regatta in Long Beach Sept. 9, hopes she can qualify again.

Mestayer is planning to keep her sailing skills home by sailing a regatta in this area almost every weekend and by going to Florida to compete there a few times.

Then, there are the qualifications for the South American Championships in Brazil during November and December. She may do what some of the other U.S. sailors did next year and skip the European championship to compete in the World Optimist Championship in Portugal because it will be her last year of eligibility in the optimist class.

After that, Mestayer wants to switch to a double-handed laser or a 420 and maybe coach younger sailors in optimists.

"Optimists are real good for teaching people how to sail. When you get to other boats, you can keep a lot of what you've learned and use it later on."

Bay native named basketball coach

Paul Brown has been named assistant basketball coach at Birmingham-Southern College, head coach Duane Reboul has announced.

Brown, a native of Bay St. Louis, served the past two seasons as the head basketball coach at Pope John Paul II High School in Slidell, La.

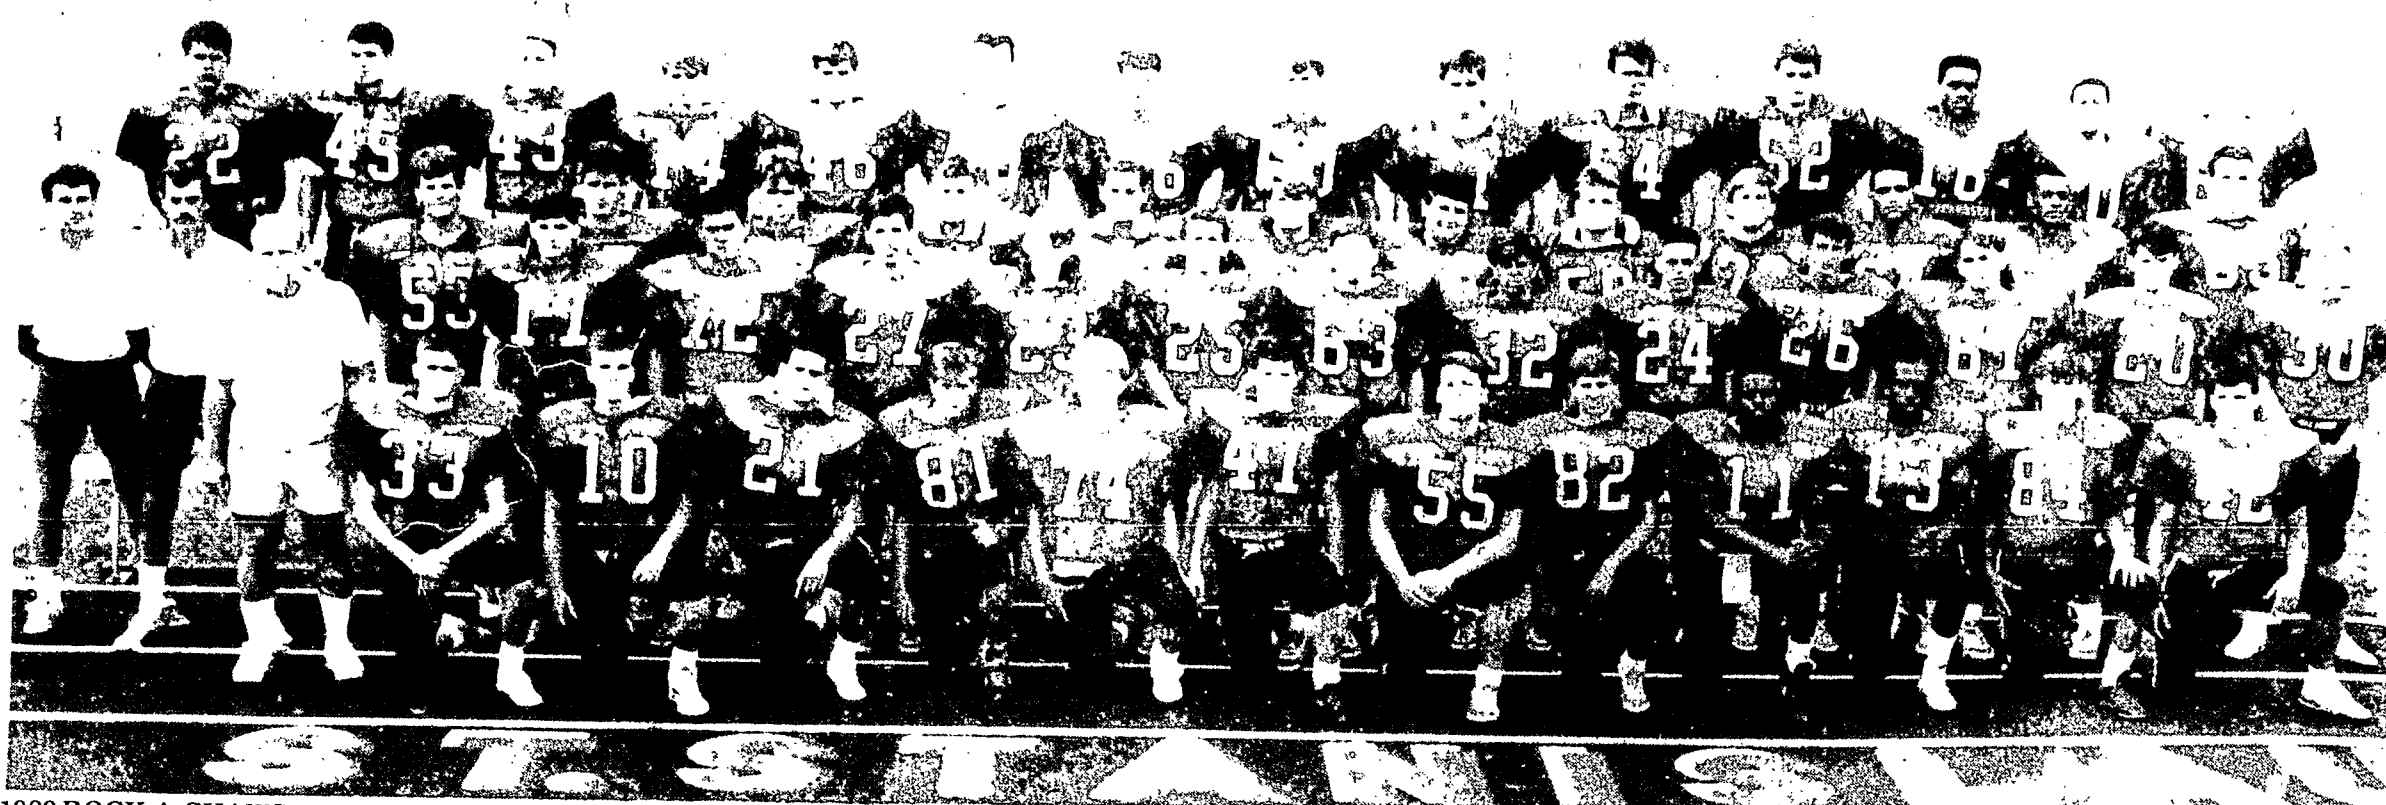

His duties at BSC will include recruiting, scouting and on-the-floor coaching.

Before coaching in Slidell, Brown was the head coach at Jesuit High School in New Orleans for the 1986-87 season.

Prior to coaching in Slidell, Brown served five seasons as an assistant coach at his alma mater, the University of New Orleans where he worked with Reboul. He played basketball for UNO from 1978-80.

"We are very pleased that Paul is joining our program," Reboul said. "He is an excellent coach and will add a great deal to Birmingham-Southern basketball."

Rocks to face Pirates in season opener

Special to the Echo
By Tom Ackerman

With one pre-season jamboree game under their belts, the St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws will open their 1989-90 campaign

The Rocks are competing in the district to give them a shot at the end-of-season playoffs, and a possible state title.

"It will give us something to shoot for," commented Rock-A-worked with them all year. Their program is more stabilized now."

With ten returning lettermen, the Rock-A-Chaws will have some experience and on offense and cornerback on defense; Paul Johnson continues at defensive free safety; Gary Ponthieux covers the outside linebacker position; Galen Smith at wide receiver and defensive end; David Alexander at fullback and inside linebacker; Bill Bradley, injured before the jamboree, returns at inside linebacker; and Andre Charlot at guard.

Although the final decision on starters isn't made until after practice on Tuesdays and Wednesdays, possible starters for Friday's contest include:

Offense, Neil Alford at center; Omer King Hebert and Andre Charlot at guard; Jim Brue and Mark Cina at tackle; Galen Smith and Brien Martin or Mickey Quinlan at wide receiver; Cedric Smith at quarterback; Ken Booker and Shannon Garrett at running back; and David Alexander, Gary Ponthieux and Scott Peterson sharing time at fullback.

On defense, Bill Bradley will return at the inside linebacker slot with David Alexander; Sean Sewell and Gary Ponthieux at the outside linebacker position; defensive free safety Paul Johnson; Garrett and Booker at cornerback with Noah Denson sharing time; Mark Carter and Scott Peterson or Steven Bradley at tackle; and Galen Smith with Kerry Wittmann, Brandon Smith or Tate Thriffley.

Tomorrow's game kicks off at 7:30 p.m. at Rock-A-Chaw Stadium.

SSC Coaches Andy Kivlan, Ken Lyons and Larry Ramsey

1989 team will play against the Pass Christian High Pirates.

Several things about this season have been said and will be said that haven't been said in the past.

For one, the Rocks had the opportunity to work out some of the kinks in their game last week in a matchup with the St. Clair Springs Greys.

The Rock-A-Chaws came up with a 21-17 victory, but in scheduling the size and speed of the Greyhound, they provided a real challenge against some stiff competition.

Another difference this year will be the Rocks playing a district schedule instead of other 4A teams.

Three teams include Long Beach, Sept. 22; Hanford, Sept. 23; North Central, Sept. 24; St. Martin, Oct. 12; and D'Iberville, Oct. 20.

Chaw head coach Ken Lyons said, "Incentive-wise, it will help us aim for a winning season."

But Lyons continued, a winning season isn't necessarily going to get them into the playoffs.

"We could have a winning season and not make the playoffs," Lyons said.

"The first and second place teams in the district will advance, but it's the district wins that determine the place you finish."

The biggest change to the Rocks' schedule is the addition of D'Iberville. "D'Iberville is always tough," Lyons noted. "They beat Gulfport last year."

Although the game against Pass High isn't a conference game, the Rocks will probably have to beat their best for a win.

"They're more experienced than last year," Lyons noted. "Pirate head coach Joe Brown is in his second year and he's depth to depend on."

Cedric Smith returns as the Rock playmaker; Sean Sewell at the outside linebacker position; Ken Booker and Shannon Garrett double as running back

Mississippi State is host to Vanderbilt Saturday in Starkville

The early Saturday's lead in the Southeastern Conference awaits the winner of this season-opening matchup as the Mississippi State University Bulldogs entertain the Commodores of Vanderbilt at Scott Field.

With season and individual game ticket sales continuing, MSU officials anticipate a crowd of 30,000 to 35,000. Mississippi State and Vanderbilt have gone to battle on the gridiron but 14 times down through the years, making it MSU's and the league's last contested Southeastern Conference series. The two teams have evenly split 12 of their previous 14 meetings while two contests have ended in ties.

Mississippi State has held the upper hand for the most part in recent years, capturing four of the last five contests. Coach Watson Brown's Commodores claimed the last meeting, winning a 24-20 thriller in Nashville in 1988. MSU claimed the last meeting contested at Scott Field, 29-9 in 1981.

Two of the nation's top young head coaches will be leading their alma maters into their fourth season-opener this weekend battle when Mississippi State and Vanderbilt square off at Scott Field.

Beginning his fourth campaign as Mississippi State University's head football coach is 36-year old Rocky Felker (Mis-issippi State, 1975). The former Bulldog star quarterback and SEC Player of the Year played a key role in MSU's 52-21 win over Vanderbilt at Scott Field in 1973. Then-junior quarterback Felker passed for two touchdowns and ran for another in MSU's first win of the year. Felker has compiled an 11-22 record in three seasons at MSU. Launching his fourth season as Vanderbilt University's head football coach is 39-year-old Watson Brown (Vanderbilt, 1973). Brown, the brother of North Carolina head coach Mack Brown, served one season as head coach at the University of Cincinnati (1983) and two seasons at Rice University.

PRCC football roster includes local starters

Pearl River Community College football coach Mike Nelson is looking forward to the coming Labor Day weekend with mixed feelings. While most of the country will be enjoying a three-day holiday, the Wildcats will be undergoing their first test of fire as they visit Itawamba Saturday for a 6:30 p.m. game in Tupelo.

The Cats opened at home against the Indians last season, and on a rain-soaked field fell to the visitors 24-22 as PRC failed to hit a 47-yard field goal with 16 seconds left in the game.

"It (last season's game) was just a disaster," Nelson said. "We just were not ready mental-the Indians to have such a potent air attack, especially on a muddy field. This year PRC has worked on adding different coverages and will be ready for anything.

Nelson said that while the Indians will probably try to establish a running game, he also suspects the Indians will have lost nothing on the air game.

Back from the 1988 squad are wide-out Vincent Brownlee, who Itawamba coach Mike Eaton feels is as good as any receiver in the league (he caught two of the TD throws last year), and quarterback Ben Anderson.

practice, while returning place kicker Walter Scoble, a 6-1, 190-pound sophomore from Bay St. Louis, has been hitting 45-yard field goals regularly in practice.

The fight for kickoff duties is between Rene Suarez, a 6-1, 225-pound freshman from Forrest County AHS, and Scoble. Overall, Nelson said the kicking staff looks the best it has in his four years at PRC.

While there are a lot of signs indicating it might be a good year for the Cats, Nelson said he is not suffering from any over-confidence, especially not in this first game.

"I'm not cocky," he said,

Center, Kevin Ina, 6-2, 265-pound sophomore from Franklin, La; and Tight End, Robert McGinty, 6-2, 230-pound sophomore from Purvis. Defensive starters are: Tackles, Frank Denard, 6-1, 298-pound sophomore from Hattiesburg; Chris Lacoste, 6-4, 245-pound sophomore from Hancock North Central; Sedrick Washington, 6-4, 320-pound sophomore from Prentiss and Emanuel Zanders, 6-1, 230-pound sophomore from Amite, La.

Linebackers, Anthony Barney, 5-10, 185-pound sophomore from North Forrest;

al, Marty Morreale of Bay St. Louis, Michelle Stringfellow of Poplarville, Dawn Mausser of Lumberton, Tonya Harper of Bay St. Louis and Konya Malley of Poplarville. The mascot, "W. C. Rivers," is David Marter of Petal.

ly and we had some people out of position."

The Cats, who would go on to be the first defensive squad in the state all year only 129 yards during the year, gave up 47 yards in the game.

Nelson said things will be different this year, however. He said the team reported to camp in good condition, and the staff has worked hard to improve on the field. The staff has also spent extra time on making sure the players are in the best condition.

Nelson said, "Last year, Nelson said, the staff had to make some adjustments to the defense to be able to play the game in the best condition."

Nelson said the defense this year is the best it has ever been. The defense is the best it has ever been. The defense is the best it has ever been.

Nelson said the defense this year is the best it has ever been. The defense is the best it has ever been. The defense is the best it has ever been.

"This year we're going to give them two or three secondary looks," Nelson said about his plans to thwart Indian attack. Offensively, the Cats will stick with the wing-T attack, but with a few new wrinkles.

Because of improved team speed, there will be more players in the PRC line-up who can put pressure on the defense, which will mean the work load can be spread around.

Nelson said that while the running game and play-action passing will still be the mainstay of the Wildcat game plan, he plans to test opponents deep earlier this year.

Nelson said the speed and down field threat will force the defense to loosen up.

One of the strongest areas on the team this year appears to be the blocking game, Nelson said. Freshman, Lance Fredericks, a 6-2, 190-pound product of Bay St. Louis, La., has been making 45- to 55-yard punts in adding that this will be one of the toughest years in the South Division and he is not about to look past Itawamba.

He said the Indians have been rated as high as first in the North Division, and they will be meeting the Cats on their home ground.

Nelson has not named his starter at quarterback, through freshmen Mel Hackbarth, a 6-2, 185-pound from Oak Grove, and Reginald Austin, a 5-11, 175-pounder from Opelousas, La. have been battling for the job.

The rest of the offensive starters are:

Fullback, Bourbon Womack, 5-11, 205-pound freshman from Bassfield;

Running Back, Michael Toefield, 5-11, 215 pound freshman from Independence, La;

Wide-outs, Terry Carter, 5-11, 180-pound sophomore from Pearl River and Shane Hughes, 6-2, 185-pound sopho-

PRCC plans day to honor Holden

Pearl River Community College is searching for friends and former players of Dobie Holden, PRC football coach from 1948 to 1966.

Donna Wilson, director of PRC's Development Foundation, said that the school is planning a special ceremony to honor Holden Sept. 30, the date of the school's game with arch-rival Gulf Coast. The money raised by the ceremony will be used to establish a scholarship in his name.

The event will include campus tours, special performances of PRC's band, "The Spirit of the River," and a meal at which the Wildcat football team will be introduced.

Those who would like more information should contact the Development Foundation at 795-6801, ext. 383.

CPL ADAMS

Marine Lance Cpl. Michael A. Adams, son of Carl J. and Toni E. Adams of Bay St. Louis, has been promoted to his present rank while serving with 1st Force Service Support Group, Camp Pendleton, Calif.

He joined the Marine Corps in April 1988.

THE SEA COAST ECHO—THURSDAY, AUGUST 31, 1989-1C

SECTION C

Molpus to co-chair marine debris campaign

Take Pride Gulf Wide
Mississippi Coastal Cleanup
September 23, 1989

Secretary of State Dick Molpus joined the fight against marine trash and debris as honorary chairman of the 1989 "Take Pride Gulf Wide" Mississippi Coastal Cleanup scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 23. Introduced as honorary co-chairmen in a press conference at the Biloxi Hilton were Molpus and 92-year-old Margaret Bryant, known locally as "Auntie Litter," an avid spokesman for a litter free environment.

Molpus cited the cleanup as an important effort to protect and enhance the natural heritage on the Mississippi Gulf Coast. His interest, he noted, is both as secretary of state—by statute the custodian and caretaker of public lands, and as a private citizen who has enjoyed and still enjoys summer visits to the coast and its barrier islands.

"I know first hand what great natural treasures we have on the Mississippi Gulf Coast. And I want to help protect and preserve those treasures. I want my children to be able to experience and enjoy them with their children. I want to pass on to future generations a legacy of unmarred and unspoiled beaches and islands.

"We have the means to do it, if we have the will. It's the responsibility of each of us to see that it's done."

Officials of Mobile presented to co-chairmen samples of trash bags Mobil has donated for use in all Mississippi coastal cleanup zones. A representative of Chevron U.S.A. Inc. presented "Mississippi Coastal Cleanup 1989" tee-shirts for chairmen and zone captains. Chevron has made a cash donation to the cleanup through Friends of the Islands.

In the 1988 cleanup 1,200 volunteers collected more than 45 tons of trash from barrier beaches and mainland shorelines. Analysis of data recorded by volunteers on kinds and amounts of trash collected showed plastics comprised approximately 50 percent of the debris on Mississippi's barrier islands.

Volunteers joining the 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Sept. 23 beach sweep will again be cleaning selected mainland waterfront areas and barrier beaches. They will also record data on trash collected for a national marine debris database. All three coastal counties, nine cities, federal and state agencies, business and industry have joined the cleanup.

Cleanup coordinators announced that this year for the first time approximately 65 miles of beach on the Mississippi islands Round, Petit Bois, Horn, East and West ship and Cat are part of an "Adopt-A-Beach" program. Thirty-eight of the 65 miles of beach available for adoption have been adopted.

Groups may adopt a mile segment of barrier beach for one year. Adopters agree to clean the beach three times during the year: once during the "Take Pride Gulf Wide" cleanup, once during an organized spring cleanup and once at the group's discretion. Adopters provide their own transportation to the islands.

Mississippi volunteers will be among thousands expected to participate in cleaning coastlines Sept. 23. Fifteen states, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands and regions of Canada and Mexico have scheduled Sept. 23 cleanups. The remaining seven other U.S. coastal states are participating in the cleanup and national data collection on alternate dates.

The Mississippi Marine Trash Task Force is spearheading the Mississippi cleanup. Organized in 1988 by Gulf Islands National Seashore, the Bureau of Marine Resources and the Mississippi-Alabama Sea Grant Consortium, the task force is an informal coalition.

Other members are Chevron, City of Biloxi, Friends of the Islands, Gulf Coast Research Laboratory, Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, Harrison County Beautification program, Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College, Office of the Secretary of State, Pascagoula Keep American Beautiful and the Scranton Museum.

To volunteer for the cleanup: In Hancock County, call Ellis Cuevas at 467-5473.

In Jackson County, call David Grimes at 769-3056.

In Harrison County, call Connie Rockco at 392-9536.

Hancock to participate in cleaning beachfront

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

Residents of Hancock County will be involved in the "Take Pride Gulf Wide" Mississippi Coastal Cleanup scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 23.

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce is a member of the Mississippi Marine Task Force which includes representatives from the counties of Hancock, Harrison and Jackson.

Ellis Cuevas represents Hancock County's Chamber of Commerce on the task force as beautification chairman.

An initial meeting of the chamber's beautification committee was held on Tuesday to discuss a cleanup of the beach and Beach Boulevard's right-away from the mouth of the Jourdan River to the mouth of Bayou Cadet.

Cuevas said, "We really appreciate the turnouts which have been tremendous during the past four years on a similar cleanups and we look forward to greater participation this year."

Thus far there will be two registration stations on the morning of the cleanup starting at 8 a.m. One will be in Bay St. Louis at Ulman Avenue and Beach Boulevard and in Waveland at the Garfield Ladner Memorial Pier.

The Hancock County Extension Service volunteers will handle the registrations.

Individuals and groups interested in pre-registering may contact the chamber's office.

The cleanup will be from 9 a.m. to noon followed by hot dogs and refreshments.

The cleanup this year will involve all the coastal United States.

Several groups have volunteered to participate in the cleanup of the coastal's barrier islands. Others interested in island cleanup can contact Dianne Hunt, 385-5860.

"Civic organizations, church groups, schools, club members, veterans organizations, boy scouts, girls scouts, visitors, families and individuals are urged to come out and help clean our beach," Libby Roland, chamber executive director said.

For further information call the chamber at 467-9048 or Cuevas at 467-5473.

Reflections On Life

By Father Jerome
LeDoux, SVD

People you can do without

Is there someone in your life or in your acquaintance whom you could skip seeing for a day and not miss at all; in fact, feel the better for it? What about a week? How about a month? A year? Several years? Forever? What does it say about you that you would not miss that person or those persons?

If you had to make a list of the people whom you would prefer to do without in your life, where would you begin? Who is that one person who is the greatest pain in your life? Is this a person so intimate in your life and so close to you emotionally that you want to remain close in spite of the pain? Or have you come to the point where you no longer want that person to be a part of your day-to-day living, of your activities, and of your dreams?

Do you know your reason(s) for wanting a person or certain people out of your life? Would that reason be an intense dislike for someone on account of appearance, demeanor, personality, character, vicious habits, strange mannerisms, or a different culture?

Or is that reason more personal: something which the person has said and/or continues to say against you; something which the person has done and/or continues to do against you?

No doubt, there is not a human being among the living on earth who does not feel that way about one or more people, for it is a natural reaction to stay away from people who cause us grief. However, you would do well to query yourself about your real reasons for not wanting a person or certain people in your life.

More often still, you must pin yourself down as to whether you merely do not want some person in your life, or whether you go as far as to wish that person out of your life. There can be quite a difference between the two.

Of course, there is nothing wrong per se with disliking, so long as your dislike does not spring from morally improper views, from bad attitudes or from prejudices. After all, dislike and like are neither good nor bad of themselves, since they are involuntary.

In short, like it or not, we like what or whom is pleasant, and we dislike what or whom is unpleasant.

That is precisely why Jesus did not command us to like one another—a completely impossible task for most people much of the time, and, for some people, all of the time. Jesus avoided like entirely, but he went far out on a limb, immeasurably beyond mere love of our family, friends and neighbors:

"Love your enemies, do good to those who hate you; bless those who curse you, and pray for those who maltreat you" (Luke 6:27-28).

Although Jesus was careful never to tell us to like other people, his powerful command about enemies puts even our reactions to likes and dislikes in a new light. There is a sense beyond his immediate words by which Jesus wants us to be most reluctant to want someone to be out of our life.

Just consider what would have happened to us, had Jesus reacted toward us in this fashion, since all of us humans had done many things to make this world inhospitable and unlikely to him. He could definitely have done without us in his life.

While asking yourself which people you would not miss if they would disappear from your life for a day, a month, a year, forever, also ask yourself which people would not miss you.

We cannot help liking or disliking, but this thing called life is much bigger than either, for there are things about our very selves which we dislike. Just as Jesus did, we can transcend likes.

DOWN HOME

By Darlene Underwood
Hancock County
Home Economist

Home economists link research info with public

"Teach (girls) to sew and cook, how to doctor; how to adorn the simple home and make it appear like a palace; how to make simple arrangements so the environment of the home can be transformed into a place of beauty," said Dr. Seaman A. Knapp, credited as being the father of extension.

This was Susie V. Powell's mission. In February 1911, Powell became state supervisor in charge of girls' and women's work for a salary of $1 per year.

During the early years of extension, emphasis was placed in food preservation and nutrition. Today, home economists have a wide range of programs that deal with current problems.

Services available through extension home economics to residents of Hancock County range from group activities to one-on-one assistance or counseling for family and home management.

Early in 1988, the federal Cooperative Extension Service established a set of initiatives or priorities with a vision of improving services to families in the 21st Century. Those basic initiatives are being carried out in all areas of extension, including the division of home economics.

County home economists work at a grassroots level to facilitate the national initiatives which include building human capital, improving nutrition, diet and health, conserving and managing natural resources and revitalizing rural Mississippi.

Home economists serve as the educational link between research-based information and the public.

One way information is circulated to the public is through Extension Homemakers Clubs. Hancock County has six clubs involving more than 100 women meeting at various times each month.

Clubs usually have 10 to 20 members who participate in educational programs at each meeting. Topics may include food, nutrition and physical well-being, citizenship responsibilities, managing family income, home furnishings, clothing care and selection and several others.

Extension Homemakers Clubs are also instrumental in various volunteer activities on the countywide and statewide basis.

More than 12,000 women of all ages participate in Mississippi's homemaker clubs. Contact Darlene Underwood at 467-5456 for more information on how and why joining a club could be beneficial.

ST. ANN CHURCH NEWS

A thought for meditation from our pastor Father Justin Furman, ST.

Daniel Webster was a man of many thoughts. He once said, "The most important thought I ever had was that of my individual responsibility to God."

Confirmation class will be 4 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 2 in the parish hall.

The CYO-sponsored cake sale is this Saturday and Sunday before and after all masses at St. Ann's and St. John's.

For a holiday treat, don't forget to pick up a delicious home-baked cake while at the same time supporting and encouraging our local teens.

Choir practice is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. at St. Ann Church each Thursday before the 7 p.m. mass. Membership is still open to all with a desire to help lead the singing at both St. Ann and St. John churches.

Saturday, Sept. 2, the 5 p.m. mass at St. Ann's will be offered for all living and deceased members of St. Ann-St. John Altar Society.

Present members are asked, if possible, to attend in a body and use the front pews.

The Declaration of Independence wasn't signed on July 4, 1776 as is popularly believed. It was adopted that day, but most of the delegates didn't sign it until Aug. 2, 1776.

It seems hard to believe, but Montreal, Canada, is farther south than Paris, France.

Miami, Florida's name was originally Fort Dallas.

The only cities or towns in America whose names start with the letter "X" are Xenia, Illinois and Xenia, Ohio.

George Washington lived in a house called the White House 30 years before he was President. When he married Martha Custis, her home, by coincidence, was known as the "White House"; Washington lived there in 1759. He didn't become president till 1789.

Garfield Reading Club encourages use of library during school year, fall

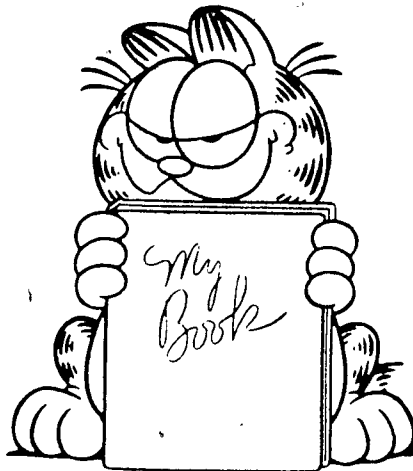

The Hancock County Library System is sponsoring a Garfield Reading Club from Sept. 1 through Dec. 15, according to Prima Wusnack, library director.

Any child, pre-school age through third grade may participate, or any child who has not yet learned to read may participate by having a parent read to the child.

Registration will be Sept. 4 through Oct. 7, and children are urged to register at the library nearest them.

Then they must visit the library at least 10 times between September and December, check out books on their reading level and have their visitor's log stamped with a Garfield paw print.

GARFIELD - 1978 United Feature Syndicate Inc.

Reading Club is to encourage children and their parents to visit and use the public library resources during the school year," said Wusnack.

"Our program is especially designed to introduce children to the joy of books and reading."

She said that studies indicate library reading programs contribute substantially to help children maintain and improve reading skills.

"In addition, regular visits to the public library can establish an educational bond between parents and children that can result in improved classroom performance by the child," concluded Wusnack.

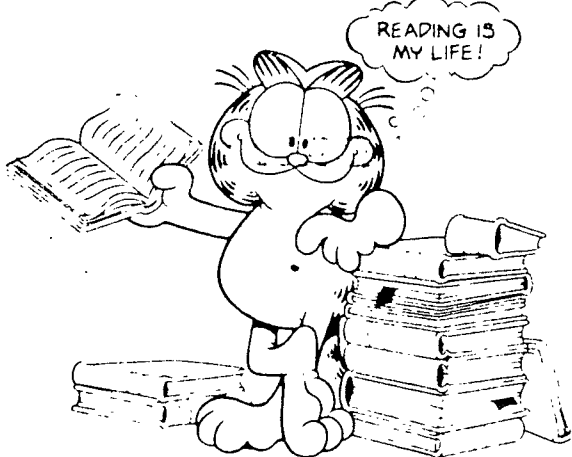

Further questions concerning the Garfield Reading Club may be directed to Sandra Ladner on Mondays and Wednesdays at the main library at 467-5282, or Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays at the Kiln Library at 255-1724, or to Karen Peoples at the Waveland Library, Tuesdays through Saturdays, at 467-9240.

Participating children will receive Garfield bookmarks, reading records, weekly Garfield games and fun quizzes. A certificate will be awarded the week of Dec. 15 to each club member who completes 10 visits to the library.

Library staff members will be available to assist parents and children in selecting the materials on the child's reading level. "The purpose of the Garfield

Coast Guard Academy seeks applicants

The United States Coast Guard Academy is now accepting and processing applications for appointment as Cadet, U.S. Coast Guard, Class of 1994. Applications are being accepted for both men and women.

Appointments as Coast Guard Cadets are tendered solely on the basis of an annual nationwide competition with no congressional nominations or geographical quotas.

Applications must be submitted to the director of admissions prior to Dec. 15. Candidates must arrange to participate in either the College Board Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) or American College Testing Assessment (ACT) prior to or including the December 1989 ACT and SAT test administrations.

Appointments as cadet are tendered based on the candidate's high school record, performance on either the SAT or ACT, and leadership potential as demonstrated by participation in high school activities, community affairs and/or part-time employment.

Most successful candidates rank in the top quarter of their high school class and have demonstrated proficiency in both the mathematical and applied science fields.

Candidates must be unmarried at the time of appointment, have no legal obligations resulting from a prior marriage, and must have reached the age of 17 but not 22 by July 1, 1990.

All candidates must be assured of high school graduation by June 20, 1990. All candidates must have completed a minimum of three years of English, and three in mathematics to include algebra and plane or coordinate geometry or their equivalents, and must fulfill basic physical requirements.

Coast Guard cadets obtain an excellent undergraduate education at no personal expense. In addition, they receive pay and allowances fully adequate to fulfill their ordinary living expenses.

The constantly updated Academy curriculum leads to a bachelor of science degree with a strong academic emphasis on engineering and science. The selected major studies, when combined with varied elective courses, establish a solid foundation for a challenging career.

Graduates of the Academy are commissioned as ensigns in the United States Coast Guard. Selected officers may pursue further postgraduate education and specialized training at many leading civilian and military graduate or professional schools, in such fields as aviation, business administration, electronics, engineering, law and oceanography.

The young Academy graduate can look forward to a varied, exciting and demanding career as a regular Coast Guard officer. Under the Department of Transportation, the Coast Guard performs a variety of missions.

These include search and rescue operations by ship and plane, maintenance of advanced electronic and other aids to navigation around the globe, operation of icebreakers which clear the way for all popular expeditions, and enforcement of marine law and all aspects of merchant marine safety. In addition, the Coast Guard has responsibility for boating safety and marine environmental protection.

To obtain an application or further information write: Director of Admissions, U.S. Coast Guard Academy, New London, CT 06320; or call (203) 444-8501.

Adjusting to a new neighborhood

By Linda S. Moore
Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service

There is more to making a home in a new community than moving everything into a new house. Adjustments require time, effort and probably some help from those already living in the area.

Summer is a popular moving season since most people center their lives around school years. While children often have a hard time adjusting to a new school, the whole family may have difficulty adjusting to the new town.

Norine Barnes, family and child development specialist with the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service, said major moves are hard both physically and psychologically.

Time is one of the most important factors in adjusting to a new home. Time should be considered for both the people moving and for the "welcoming committee."

"A person should plan for time to adjust and realize it takes time to get over loneliness and the feeling of being uprooted," Barnes said. "Newcomers need more time to do the common chores, such as shopping, as they learn their way around town and around the stores."

During the beginning months, newcomers should limit expressing criticisms of the new town to family and old friends who will be more sympathetic. Barnes said by comparing the new town's weaknesses with the strengths left behind in their former location, people could alienate themselves from new friends.

Barnes said while help from established residents of the area is appreciated, certain considerations must be given to the newcomers.

"Since moving is so draining, both physically and psychologically, a person may not be at his or her best when meeting new people," Barnes said. "Give them time to settle in, and don't make hasty character judgments."

She said it's not only important to make the effort to meet new people, but also to introduce them to other people of similar age and interests.

"Offer to guide them around the community, but be flexible on the time to do so," Barnes said. "Be sensitive to the fact that they may not want to get out a lot at first."

Providing a listing of local service people, such as babysitters, plumbers, mechanics and electricians, would be very beneficial to newcomers. The often used "call me if you need me" phrase is too open ended. Be more specific when offering help. Patience for all those with a part in the move will make the transition much more pleasant in the long run.

USM summer term honors lists told

The University of Southern Mississippi Dean's and President's lists for the 1989 summer semester have been released.

Local scholars making a 4.0 grade point average are included on the President's List. Students making at least a 3.25 GPA are included on the Dean's List.

Area students included are:
Bay St. Louis: Dean's List, Amy Lynn Compretta, Diane Hollis Herndon and Kathleen Arnold Morgan.

Waveland: President's List: John Michael Boyer; Dean's List: Vince David Elchos.

SECTION D

Skateboarders, cyclists take to the air in Hancock Recreation Association competition

The Wal-Mart parking lot in Waveland was transformed Saturday into the site of the First Coastal Skateboard Championship. Team Holocaust, composed of Reggie Sevin, David Bradley and Jason English, brought the idea to Herta Smith, recreation director of Hancock County Recreation Association.

Sevin, the group leader, said that they had been looking for adults to sponsor the contest but were turned down on many occasions.

The staff at Bay St. Louis City Hall directed them to Smith and the Recreation Association who agreed to help.

After securing the logistical help, team Holocaust built ramps, distributed flyers, contacted contestants and accepted registrations.

"It was truly amazing," said Smith, "to see the teenagers develop an idea of what they wanted to do and attempt to carry it off in such a professional manner. HCRA hopes that more youth groups come forward in this fashion. We will be very happy to accommodate them."

Milton Travis, owner of Spirit Recording and Publishing Company, provided more than 800 watts of musical power for the event.

"It was exciting to see the competitors dance and prance to the strains of heavy metal music as they waited impatiently for their turn on the raceway," said Smith.

Steve Crowder, assistant manager at Wal-Mart, and Sergeant Don Ocho, Bay Police Department, judged the contestants on poise, originality, execution and degree of difficulty.

"It was amazing to see a youngster perform routines like cherry-pickers, decades, grasshoppers and 'round the world on a bicycle," commented Smith.

"Equally exciting were the stunts performed by the skateboarders. Twists, turns, somersaults and high flying acts were the order of the day for these youngsters who received oohs, aahs and shouts of encouragement from some 300 or more spectators ignoring the 95 degree temperature in order to see the participants perform."

Judging on the 100 point system, each rider or skater had two chances to tally points, and the winners were determined by the average score for two rounds.

The daredevil aerobatic maneuvers were enough to keep the audience glued to their seats on cars, tailgates and the asphalt.

Parents and grandparents of the skaters came in campers with friends and refreshments to watch the children bedecked in knee pads and helmets adroitly maneuver the obstacles before them.

Winners in the bike competition were Brandon Sloan, 197 points; Jason Crowder, 195 points; Sonny Goodman, 193 points; and Chris Travis, 187 points.

Skateboard finalists were Mike Schmitt, 170 points; Mike Martin, 165 points; Reggie Sevin, 160 points; and Jonathan Pennington, 150 points.

Schmitt, of Gulfport, said, "We planned to come here today and take the gold (trophies), and that's what we did."

Herta Smith thanked all the people who assisted her in making the first skateboard championship a huge success.

"The most wonderful thing about this is the unsolicited help and spirit of volunteerism offered to our children by the adults in our community," she said.

She cited the example of Milton Travis offering his music van when the kids' equipment was not loud enough, and the assistance of adults to police the parking lot after the competition. "It was just fantastic," said Smith.

The Hancock County Recreation Association provides recreational outlets for all members of our community regardless of age or financial status.

The association is also seeking volunteers to staff the after school programs which will be housed at North Bay and Waveland Elementary Schools this fall. For more information call Herta Smith at 467-0470.

JOHN RUTHERFORD

Former Bay High students to 'roast,' honor John Rutherford at reunion

Special to the Echo

The former students who attended Bay High School when it was a small, two-story wooden structure built in 1880, to the present school on Second Street which was occupied in 1927, will hold a huge Bay High reunion at Diamondhead Country Club on Sept. 22, 23 and 24.

This reunion is unique in that it is not a class reunion but a reunion for anyone who ever attended Bay High for a day, a year or 12 years and graduated there.

It is unique, too, in that friends of these students are invited to join in the festivities even though they did not attend Bay High.

In fact, Hubert Cowand, organizer of the reunion, says that driving down Carroll or Ulman Avenues or Second Street or a desire to party with this great group of former students entitles a person to attend.

The weekend of activities starts at 7:30 p.m. on Friday at the Diamondhead Country Club with a "student-studded" cocktail party with soft background piano music by R. W. Smith (who will gladly play personal requests).

A cash bar, soft lights and a massive amount of reminiscing over the best of "the good old days" will also highlight the evening.

At a noon luncheon on Saturday, the 23rd, Lou Lamedola will present a fashion show, parading a group of former Bay High beauties dressed in the latest fall fashions from her Diamondhead dress shop.

Saturday night will spotlight the "Big Band of Art Cissell." This 18-member group of "Star Dusters" will start four hours of music at 8 p.m.

Guests are expected to arrive from across the nation with reservations already received from California and New York and most states in between.

Saturday night's gathering will feature an hors d'oeuvre buffet, a cash bar and dancing for those who enjoy it. In addition, Saturday night will be the time for honoring those who attended classes in the wooden school in the early and late 1920's.

Sunday brunch at Diamondhead will be something to bring back smiles for years to come. Not only will the staff at Diamondhead be preparing delicious food, the organizers are preparing to "roast" "Big John"

Rutherford.

Big John has already been honored by just about every organization on the Gulf Coast with practically every honor there is to give, but Big John has never been "roasted."

His friends will have some comments about him that night to make his hair curl. A friend of his said he "wouldn't miss this for all the tea in China."

The spotlight will also focus on many of the former students in attendance who were students at the old wooden school. They will have many interesting stories of that time when they had to "fight off Indians on their walks to school."

There will be a toast to the past, a toast to the future, and a few teardrops on cheeks as farewells are said to the last and best reunion of old friends.

Everyone is urged to make all the functions because to miss one event might mean missing a friend one may never have an opportunity to see again. Time notices have been sent out, and the deadline for reservations is Sept. 10.

Call Hubert Cowand, 601-896-0803, Bertha Irene Koch Morris, 255-9492, Pat Murphy, 467-6453; Jim Evans, 467-9861; or Beverly Davis

HUMAN BODY

The human body is a complex machine capable of performing remarkable physical feats, not only in the athletic arena, but in daily life as well. Today, scientists are conducting research and refining past discoveries that allow this amazing machine to stretch its capabilities even further.

"The Infinite Voyage" at 8 p.m., Wednesday, Sept. 6, on Mississippi ETV follows scientists who are using athletes as living laboratories in an effort to better understand the human body and make it function more efficiently.

Researchers are working to unlock "The Champion Within" and working together with athletes to bring the best possible performance from the human body. What they have learned from their joint studies are already helping the general population in some unexpected ways.

Local residents honored in NASA annual ceremony

Numerous residents from along the Mississippi Gulf Coast received special awards Tuesday during NASA's annual honor awards ceremony held at the John C. Stennis Space Center in Hancock County.

Dr. Howard Robins Jr., associate administrator for management at NASA Headquarters in Washington, D.C., was guest speaker during the ceremony.

Glade Woods of Picayune, chief of communications and applications programs with Stennis Space Center's Science and Technology Laboratory, received NASA's Exceptional Service Medal. Woods was recognized for his achievements in support of propulsion test activities and contributions to the commercialization of remote sensing technology.

"The accomplishments by each of you individually have significantly contributed to our return to flight and to other purposes as well," Robins said in his address during the ceremony.

"You played a critical role by successfully testing the Space Shuttle main engines," Robins said. "From the successful Discovery Launch in September of last year to the most recent flight of Columbia earlier this month, Stennis has contributed to the flight rate build-up of the shuttle program, and that is just critically important to the agency."

Robins commended the Stennis Space Center team for recording over 40,000 seconds of testing in the past year alone. The Stennis Center is the site where all space shuttle main engines are tested and proven flight worthy before all launches.

Stennis Space Center Director Roy Estess commended Stennis employees for their Gulf Coast residents with Sverdrup's Gas and Material Analysis Laboratory include Kathryn Knox of Bay St. Louis; Linda Bernard, Gulfport; and Chris Bourgeois of Waveland. Members of the Nondestructive Test and Evaluation Laboratory from the Gulf Coast include Edgar Casanova, Lamar Laddner and Mike Reich, all of Bay St. Louis, and Martin Rodek of Waveland.

Employees with Sverdrup's Standards and Calibration Laboratory from the Gulf Coast include Allen Bare, Robert Schilling and Charles Knox, all of Bay St. Louis; Don Wilson, Joseph Barkley, Nester Torres Jr.; and George Britt, all of Waveland; James Mullins and Joseph Davis, both of Gulfport; John Sneed and Robert Crnkovich, both of Long Beach; Charles Partin, Robert McTaggart and Paul Conrad, all of Biloxi; H. J. Hessbruegge and Jack efforts in carrying out the missions of the center.

"Each of you, regardless of the particular jobs you have or the area you are assigned, play a vital link in our ability to get our job done," Estess said.

"No matter whom I talk to around the place, the common characteristic I find is pride in the NASA mission and a strong belief in the value of what we're all trying to do," he said.

Three teams with Sverdrup Technology Inc. received Public Service Group Achievement Awards for their significant efforts and outstanding performance in support of propulsion testing efforts and flight readiness certification of the Space Shuttle main engines.

Teams included the Gas and Materials Analysis Laboratory, the Nondestructive Test and Evaluation Laboratory and the Standards and Calibration Laboratory.

Marion, both of Ocean Springs; Deborah Joost of Clermont Harbor and Ronnie Bilbo of Kiln.

NASA personnel receiving 35-Year Service Awards were Jack Rogers of Gulfport, director of SSC's Center Operations

Office; and John Viger of Long Beach, Stennis deputy procurement officer.

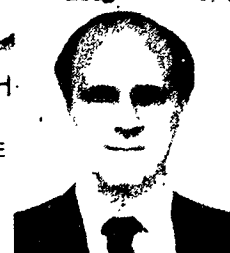

Edward L. Tilton III of Waveland, director of NASA's Science and Technology Laboratory at Stennis Space Center, was among those who received 25-Year Service Awards.

$1.5 million gift awarded USM

The largest cash gift in the history of the University of Southern Mississippi will fund scholarships aimed at attracting high-ability students, it was announced recently.

USM President Aubrey K. Lucas revealed during a news conference the Otilie Schilling Trust of Port Gibson, administered by Jackson businessman James T. Baird, will award a $1.5 million endowment to the university.

"This historic gift from the Schilling Trust, which is the largest cash gift in the history of USM, will allow our unique Honors College to attract additional high-ability students," Lucas said in a prepared statement.

"The future of the state of Mississippi depends on these superbly educated people, whose visions and abilities can help us build a new Mississippi," he added. "We are indebted to Mr. Baird for investing so generously in our students."

Lucas said recipients of the Honors College scholarships, which will be awarded initially in the fall of 1991 will be designated as Schilling/Baird Scholars. They will receive $5,000 per year over four years of study at USM and the number of scholarships awarded each year will depend on the interest growth of the investment.

"This gift marks the largest gift to the university from an individual," noted USM Development Director Bill Pace.

"The gift will be an endowed one, with only the interest earned each year to be used for the scholarships," he said.

The USM Honors College, headed by Dean Peggy Prenshaw, attempts to provide the academic experience of a smaller liberal arts college within a comprehensive university setting. The college offers an "extra rich" program to participants through its honors curriculum and related cultural events.

Miss Otilie Schilling, a nationally acclaimed concert singer of the 1920s who died in 1982, was among three daughters of Stephen Schilling, a founding partner in 1882 of the Port Gibson Oil Works. Miss Schilling specified that the trust be used "exclusively for charitable or educational purposes." She was 91 at the time of her death in Port Gibson.

The Schilling/Baird scholarships will be awarded each year in addition to USM's prestigious Presidential Scholarships, which traditionally have provided $16,000 to deserving scholars over four years of study at the Hattiesburg-based university.

The top USM Presidential Scholarship currently is the O. L. and Marie Sims Endowed Scholarship, which was raised from $16,000 to $20,000 earlier this year as a result of interest accumulations.

CLUBS, AUXILIARIES

American Legion Auxiliary Unit 139

On Saturday, Sept. 2, there will be a Poppy Day drive sponsored by the Clement R. Bontemps American Legion Auxiliary and Junior Auxiliary Unit 139.

The ladies will be at many of the shopping centers in this area, namely from Waveland to Bay St. Louis, and we hope that the public will actively participate with their donations.

The men from Post 139 have volunteered their help in this drive and they will be placed in some of the areas.

A brief history of the origin of Poppy Day is as follows: In the spring of 1918, amidst complete devastation, the poppies bloomed in abundance on the battlefields of France where so many of our men had fallen in battle, and thus a replica of the poppy has become the memorial flower of the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary.

Makes for sale from the distribution of poppies may only be used for the rehabilitation of veterans honorably discharged from the U.S. Armed Forces, welfare of families of veterans and for the rehabilitation of hospitalized veterans returning home and awaiting discharge who require treatment in service hospitals.

Take Off Pounds Sensibly

WAVELAND

The Waveland Public Library met Tuesday, Aug. 22 at the Waveland Public Library. Debra Steffel and Charlotte Tartavouille took part in the weekly best loser. Each lost 4 1/2 pounds. Debra Steffel was presented a charm for six consecutive weeks.

There were several ways to prepare food and the importance of low fat and sodium intake. Each loser mentioned a dietitian who helped them lose this week. Rose N. was the winner.

Timber Ridge Social Club

Mrs. Jason Floyd and Mrs. Vernon Bourdette were hostesses for the August meeting of the Timber Ridge Social Club. Mrs. J. D. Wilson presided in the absence of Mrs. Don Costa, president.

Upcoming social events for the remainder of the year were discussed.

The next meeting will be Monday, Sept. 18 at 7 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Ray Campbell.

The meeting adjourned and a buffet luncheon was served.

Gulf Coast Stamp Club

Gulf Coast Stamp Club president H. G. Gibson announces plans for the 16th annual Gulfex Stamp Exhibit at the Biloxi Holiday Inn on Sept. 2 and 3.

The 'Gulfex '89' show theme will feature the history of steamboats along the Gulf Coast and the steamboat stamps issued this year.

A U.S. Postal Service substation will be in operation during the show. All mail serviced there will be cancelled with a special steamboat cancel designed by Ron Miglorie. The substation will have a variety of stamps for sale not always available at the local post office.

Stamps of the world entered in a competitive exhibit will be on display. Visitors will be able to vote for the Peoples Choice Award.

Stamp dealers from Florida to Texas will participate in the show.

Show hours are from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. Admission is free and visitors are welcome to register and vote. For information call 435-1638.

When You Don't Know If You Need an Ophthalmologist or an Otolaryngologist

Or maybe you need a family doctor. Don't worry, now you can call THE PHYSICIANS BUREAU family of doctors. We can help you sort it all out because we have joined together family doctors and specialists from nearly every medical field to give our community the best of health.

So, if you are new to the Gulf Coast area, want a second opinion, or are confused about the kind of doctor you need, call THE PHYSICIANS BUREAU. A representative will answer your call and will help you find the physician who will be just right for you or your family. She can put you in touch with specialists and family physicians and give you information concerning convenient locations, insurance health plan acceptance and any other information you may need.

Assisted by a computer, THE PHYSICIANS BUREAU representative can save you time by making your first appointment for you and even confirm it while you are still on the line.

You can end the confusion by calling THE PHYSICIANS BUREAU. Let us introduce you to a physician of your choice.

I HAD SO MANY QUESTIONS ABOUT MY FIRST PREGNANCY...

First Baby

SLIDELL MEMORIAL HOSPITAL HAD ALL THE ANSWERS.

Announcing the First Baby Program at Slidell Memorial Hospital

Announcing the First Baby Program at Slidell Memorial Hospital

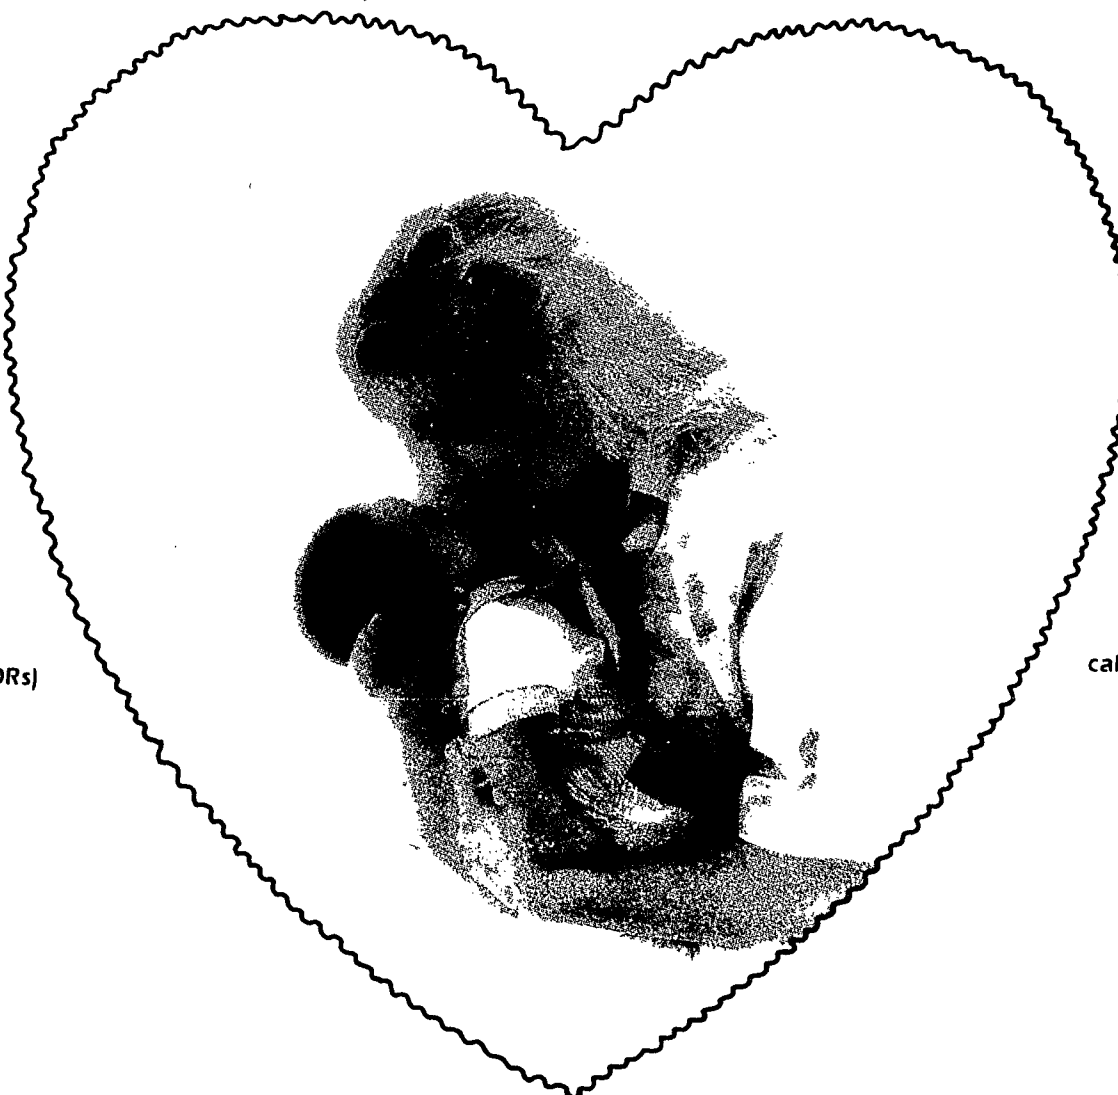

Your first pregnancy is a special event that brings many changes into your life, and it's difficult to know what to expect. Slidell Memorial Hospital understands that your needs are different from other expectant women, so we've developed a unique program just for first time mothers.

Special Surprises, Special Moments

Slidell Memorial Hospital's First Baby program welcomes you and your spouse to Parenthood with a special first time Baby Shower, complete with surprises and amenities for the first time mother. And, our team of nurses, physicians, and staff are always available to answer your questions about the experience and expectations of childbirth and parenting.

Comfortable, Safe Surroundings

Our Labor, Delivery and Recovery Suites (LDRs)

provide a warm and comfortable birthing experience for new mothers. This all-in-one-room delivery is part of our one-price maternity package. Slidell Memorial Hospital is the only hospital in the North Lake area with a Neonatal Intensive Care Unit that is staffed around the clock by Neonatologists and a fully-equipped transport team.

Because Your First Baby is Special

Slidell Memorial Hospital has delivered thousands of babies over the last 30 years, giving us the experience and understanding that sets us apart. The First Baby program combines that experience and understanding with the special "extras" a first time mother needs. We'd like to share your First Baby birthing experience at Slidell Memorial Hospital. Just call us at 646-0560 for more information. We'll fill you in on all the special details.

Labor Day Picnic Fun

Starts At Delchamps.

Labor Day is here again, and it's time to plan that last picnic of the summer. Set the prettiest picnic table ever. Just think of it...spare ribs smoothly saturated with your own special barbecue sauce...sweet, juicy ears of corn ready for oodles of melted butter...and the all-time favorite fried chicken.

Making you hungry? Get your list and go to Delchamps now. Our Bonus Buys and low discount prices help you spend less so you can enjoy more. You gotta shop it to believe it.

Cal Turner Jr., President of Dollar General Corporation, accepts the Presidential Award for Private Sector Initiatives from President Ronald Reagan at a White House ceremony. White House Photo - September 29, 1988

"The man who started Dollar General® only had a third grade education."

Perhaps you've seen our yellow GED and Learn to Read brochure in your hometown Dollar General Store. There are many reasons why children in some families can't finish school or never learn to read. The Turner family understands first hand what can happen. That is why, a little over a year ago, they made all 1,300 Dollar General Stores information centers for anyone who needs to learn to read and write... for anyone who'd like to volunteer to teach someone to read and write... and for anyone who'd like to take their GED exam. So far over 11,000 people have responded to our yellow brochure and are on their way to changing their lives for the better. In 1988, Ronald Reagan presented Dollar General the Presidential Citation for its efforts, one of only 30 corporations that received such an award. We're very proud of that, but moreover, we're proud of each of you who have the courage to try. The Turner family and the Dollar General family believe in you and your family. In this our 50th Anniversary year, we wish you all the best.
